Man Dies As Car Swerves To Miss Dog

11th Fatalty For 1964 On Road Near Fairfax

A 38-year-old Half Moon Bay man was killed early today when the car which he was riding swerved to miss a stray dog and plunged 60 feet down an embankment on Bolinas Road, seven-tenths of a mile west of the Fairfax city limits.

William Charles Cronan, an electronics technician for Ampex Corp. in Menlo Park, was pinned under the 1957 Triumph roadster. He was dead at the accident scene, according to Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley.

The 11 traffic deaths in Marin County this year match those at the same time in the county last year.

Cronan was a passenger in a car driven by Thomas Albert Flook, 39, of Olema. Flook, a merchant seaman who had just left his ship yesterday after five months at sea, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with broken ribs.

Flook was driving west on Bolinas Road at about 2:45 a.m. when a dog wandered into the path of his car.

He served to the left to miss the dog and lost control of his car. It spun back to the right side of the roadway, according to California Highway Patrolman William Gregg, then plunged down the embankment, landing right-side-up by a small dirt road maintained by the Marin Municipal Water District at the bottom of the incline.

Joseph W. Ray and his wife, Fern, who live at 391 Cascade Drive, heard cries for help. They located the car and notified the highway patrol.

Cronan is survived by his wife, from whom he is separated, and four children, who live in San Francisco.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo.

Snow Hits Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A heavy snowstorm left a blanket of white across the Chicago area Easter Sunday and the wintry weather scene made the 10th day of spring look like Christmas. Up to nine inches of snow fell in some areas.

TIDAL WAVE IS FATAL TO FISHERMAN

Sonoman Drowns Wading Channel In Bolinas Bay

A 34-year-old Sonoma man, fishing Saturday in Bolinas Bay, was drowned in one of several tidal surges resulting from Alaska's huge earthquake, the Marin County sheriff's office reported.

Deputies said Isaac T. Dirksen was swept away while wading across a channel at end of Maple Avenue at Duxbury Point about 3 p.m. His wife, Bobbie, witnessed the drowning, according to officers, but was on the reef and unable to render aid.

The body still had not been recovered at noon today.

Officers said Dirksen and his wife came from Sonoma Saturday for a day's fishing. Dirksen, wearing fishing attire and rubber waders, had started across the channel in water about eight inches deep, they said. About half-way across —some 30 feet from shore—the tidal surge caught him.

An unidentified observer shouted to Dirksen, deputies said, but the surge, about three feet high, apparently filled his

Wave Razes 300 Buildings

By JACK SCHREIBMAN

CRESCENT CITY (AP) — There was work to do, Easter Sunday or not.

And dozens of men, after sharing in Christendom's most triumphant anniversary, went home and changed from church finery to work clothes.

Then they went out to the rubble-strewn, tortured places hit by the tidal wave from Friday's terrible Alaska earthquake, and started cleaning up. A grim kind of spirit marked their toil.

11 DEAD

They knew the record — 11 dead, 15 missing and about 17 hurt. More than 300 buildings four streets deep on 29 blocks were demolished. And an estimated 50 million dollars in damages, lost to the waterborne horror.

A 25-toon tetrapod, used in construction of seawalls, was lifted off its cement base and dropped six feet away. That was the power of the thing that slammed the city early Saturday morning.

4 WAVES

Four waves, propelled across the sea from Alaska at hundreds of miles an hour, struck the city starting at 12:09 a.m. The first was mild. The town of 3,000 figured that was all.

"They went back to sleep," said a civil defense worker.

The second wave, also moderate, struck at 12:30 a.m. And then a third wave, at 12:45. Still not bad.

The time was 1:40.

The fourth wave arrived.

First slowly, then with increasing speed the sea advanced and then roared on in a frothing torrent across Highway 101 south of the city.

On marched the maddened waters from Front Street to Fourth Street. East, at Elk Creek, a wall of water some said was as high as 15 feet

Damage Estimates Mount At Marin Docks, Harbors

Damage estimates mounted today as Marin boat and harbor owners labored to repair the havoc caused by tidal waves which followed the Alaska earthquake.

At Loch Lomond Marina in San Rafael, where damage was estimated at $200,000 early Saturday by John F. McCarthy of McCarthy Construction Co., the developers, it was reported the total may go higher.

At Clipper Yacht Harbor in Sausalito, $75,000 damage was estimated.

Many other property owners reported damage, and many boats were wrecked.

The proprietor of one San Rafael engine firm charged that the San Rafael Police Department had not provided warning although police knew an unusually high tide was expected.

Harbor owners said nearly all boats were back in their berths by yesterday. A half dozen or more vessels which sank or overturned were pulled out of the water for repairs.

A nearly new $30,000 cabin cruiser, which sank at the hard-hit Loch Lomond Marina in San Rafael, was pulled out of the water Saturday, partially cleaned up then floated on yesterday's high tide to Marina Engine and Electric Co. at 51 Bay Street, San Rafael.

"There is no doubt that it is repairable," said M. F. Ludlow of the engine firm.

But its owner of five weeks, Al Miller of Novato, said he was considering trading it for an identical — but never sunk model.

Ludlow complained police failed to call owners of firms along the canal in time to avoid much of the damage.

"We get no police protection in East San Rafael," he declared.

He also charged that some of the damage was due to improperly placed floats at newly built apartment houses on the waterfront.

San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa, however, said extra men had been called out to protect property and prevent looting.

"The lieutenant going off at midnight got the call that there might be a tidal wave," he said, "and he called out adddi-

83 In Alaska Missing

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) —As Alaskans toiled to dig out from the rubble of Friday's great earthquake, Civil Defense officials listed new casualty figures today of 21 known dead and 83 missing and presumed dead.

Fifty-five were reported to have been injured.

This means if those presumed dead—most were washed to sea to tidal waves following the quake—are indeed dead the toll will be more than 100.

Before this morning's report, an estimated 70 had been listed as dead or presumed so.

DAMAGE HEAVY

Gov. William A. Egan made a new damage estimate last night of 350 million dollars for this far north state, where industry in several south-central coastal towns was virtually obliterated.

Civil Defense officials gave this breakdown on casualties:

Anchorage, with a metropolitan population of 100,000 and the state's largest city, 8 dead and 2 presumed dead, 50 injured.

OTHER CASUALTIES

Kokiak, 7 dead, 14 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Valdez, 1 dead, 30 presumed dead, 2 injured.

U.S. Court Won't Act On Re-District

Judge Lloyd H. Burke of U. S. District Court in San Francisco today denied a request by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce for further re-districting of Marin's supervisorial districts.

This in effect confirmed an earlier decision by the State Supreme Court, which refused to intervene in the Marin supervisors' "stop-gap" partial redistricting accomplished last January. The State Supreme Court, however, directed the Marin supervisors to come up with a new re-districting plan by Jan. 15, 1965.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney appeared before Judge Burke this morning to argue for the status quo.

Novato Woman Loses Parents In Disaster

A Novato mother, who underwent major surgery Thursday at Marin General Hospital, lost her parents little more than a day later in the Crescent City tidal wave disaster.

Among those drowned near Crescent City were Mr. and Mrs. William Clawson, parents of Mrs. Jim K. James of 713 Arthur Street, Novato.

Mrs. James underwent surgery for removal of a tumor at Marin General Hospital on Thursday. She was returned home from the hospital yesterday, under heavy sedation, and left this morning for Crescent City.

Mr. and Mrs. Clawson, with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edwards, also of Crescent City, were enjoying themselves at the Long Branch Tavern near Elk Creek when the wave struck early Saturday, the Associated Press reported from Crescent City.

Forced out of the tavern by rising water, the two couples and three other persons crowded into a rowboat.

The boat overturned. The Edwardses and the Clawsons drowned, along with Joan Fields. The others in the boat swam to safety.

James and his wife left their four children, aged 18 months to nine years, in the care of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Crabtree of 640 Arthur Street and went to Crescent City today.

Brown Asks Fund For Crescent City

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today asked President Lyndon B. Johnson for $700,000 in federal funds to alleviate property damage in Crescent City.

The funds would be spent to:

Clear debris, $400,000.

Employ security forces, $20,000.

Repair the Citizens' Dock $250,000.

Glenn Withdraws From Senate Race Because Of Injury

Damage To Ear Also Slows Plan To Leave Marine Corps

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., withdrew today from the Ohio U.S. Senate campaign because of injuries from a bathroom fall last month.

"No man has a right to ask for a seat in either branch of the Congress merely because of a specific event such as orbiting the earth in a space craft," Glenn told newsmen after one of his physicians said participation in the campaign would be detrimental to his health and recovery.

His statement was made at the Air Force hospital where he was brought March 6 to recover from inner ear damage.

Glenn's announcement ended weeks of speculation on how the injury would affect the future of the spaceman turned politician.

The ear injury impaired Glenn's sence of balance and curtailed his plans to retire from the Marine Corps March 1 to enter the Ohio Senate race.

Glenn said he sent a telegram to Ohio Secretary of State Ted Brown requesting that his name be taken off the Democratic ballot.

The Marine Corps lieutenant colonel said he might return to his home near the National Aeronautics Space Administration center at Houston within a week or so.

As to his future plans, Glenn said: "Perhaps there will be other opportunities for service to our country or be a later time when I can conduct the type of campaign I think every candidate should conduct."

Glenn said tests of his condition by specialists "have led to the conclusion that the conditions causing my difficulties will probably not be resolved for at least a number of months.

"Doctors have advised that carrying on in a work status only aggravates the condition and can delay recovery, with the possibility that agitation would develop into a chronic situation from which recovery might be much more difficult," he said.

President Extends His Working Vacation

JOHNSON CITY Tex. (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson is extending the Easter holiday he says is no vacation into another day or two around the LBJ Ranch.

Again today no appointments were announced for the chief executive. That's been the pattern for his stay here, now in its fifth day.

But Johnson has been getting in some work—a President always does. And he sort of grumbled: "Haven't had one," when asked Sunday how he was enjoying his Easter vacation.

Over the weekend, the president speedily proclaimed earthquake-ravaged Alaska a disaster area and mustered federal help for the state as reports flowed in from the scene and from Washington.

Among other things, Johnson got in some paper work, announced some appointments and drafted a bid to Congress to set up a committee to find out why farmers are getting less for food and housewives are paying more.

In the aftermath of the shooting down of two straying American planes over East Germany in recent weeks, Johnson said that "I have given very strong instructions" for American airmen to observe the boundaries of corridors assigned to Allied aviation.

Some of these items were the product of another Saturday news conference over which Johnson presided in a beige Western ensemble in the combination library and office in the ranch house.

The president skirted political questions, said he intends to take a look in person at areas of poverty and unemployment, at a time not yet determined.

Leftist Brazilian Unions Charge Plot On President

Leaders of the General Confederation of Workers vowed to oppose any attempted coup with a general strike and "any methods of fighting which the moment demands."

In a public statement, they urged Brazil's unions and workers to be prepared for a general strike.

The labor leaders issued the warning amid a growing crisis over Goulart's attempts to institute sweeping social reforms and strengthen his power to circumvent a recalcitrant congress. The trouble came to a head last week with a sit-in strike by 1,400 sailors against alleged political discrimination and poor conditions in the navy.

The sailors surrendered after 40 hours Friday when the general confederation won a promise from the government that they would not be punished. The rebellion took place in the headquarters of a union affiliated with the labor command.

The navy's officers, including 30 admirals, charged the sailors' revolt had been didrected by a group with "clearly Communist characteristics" and called upon the nation to oppose the "communization" of Brazil.

New Vatican Policy Unfolds Against Reds

Pope Stresses Again Search For Christian Unity

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The framework of a tough new Vatican policy toward communism stood out today after the first Holy Week of Pope Paul VI's reign.

The hardening emerged in speeches delivered by the pontiff during the week. He also again stressed the search for Christian unity and closer ties between Roman Catholics and other Christians.

After a Good Friday procession in which the 66-year-old pontiff carried a cross, he condemned Communist treatment of Roman Catholics as another crucifixion.

In his first Easter speech as Pope, Paul urged atheists and those who oppose religion to accept God.

His Good Friday speech was the strongest papal condemnation of communism since the reign of Pope Pius XII, who died in 1958.

Paul's Easter speech from the loggia of St. Peter's Basilica was taken as both an appeal and a demand to Communists to mend their ways.

His predecessor, Pope John XXIII, never wavered on doctrinal opposition to Communist philosophy and dictatorial methods. But John sought to ease world tension and improve the situation of Catholics in Iron Curtain countries by showing patience and charity in dealing with communism.

John almost never used the term "church of silence," which Pius used to refer to Roman Catholics behind the Iron Curtain. Pope Paul used the term Good Friday.

There was some speculation in Vatican circles that new measures against Catholicism by Red regimes was responsible for the Pope's attitude.

Some Vatican sources considered that the Pope's speeches, particularly his words on atheism, were aimed against a new Soviet campaign to promote atheism.

Nehru 'Great Deal Better,' He Declares

POWERFUL LIGHT FOUND IN SPACE

Object Moving So Fast Scientists Say Universal Concepts Are Upset

PASADENA (AP) — Two astronomers say they've discovered an incredibly powerful source of light and radio waves in space. It's an object moving so fast and at such a great distance that current concepts of the Universe's size and age have been upset.

Dr. Maarten Schmidt of the Mount Wilson and Palomar observatories said the object, believed to be an exploding galaxy or cluster of galaxies, is the most distant yet seen by man.

"We have had to throw our yardsticks out the window," he said.

Dr. Schmidt discovered the new object with the aid of radio astronomer Thomas A. Matthews. They said it is moving faster than anything ever observed in the heavens — approximately half the speed of light.

Until announcement of the new discovery, astronomers measured the speed and distance of objects by a technique called the "red shift." They said that the faster an object goes, the more its light shifts into the red part of the spectrum.

All distant objects, they said, appear to be going away from our part of the universe. They all seem to go faster — and get redder — the farther they recede.

Astronomers, using this method to measure speed and distance, figured the percentage of shift across the spectrum toward red — equalled the percentage of the speed of light at which the object was traveling.

Thus, if the shift toward red was one-tenth of the way, they figured the object was going about one-tenth the speed of light.

The problem, however, is that they keep finding new objects that are farther and farther away. The new object, dubbed 3C-147, is believed to be 10 or 20 per cent farther away than the most distant previously known object, called 3C-295.

Does this mean, then, that they may find very distant objects going faster than the speed of light?

"No," says Schmidt, "Einstein has proved nothing can go faster than light. What it does mean is that we must begin to be more cautious in announcing estimates of distance."

When 3C-295 was discovered, he added, its distance was announced as approximately six billion light years. A light year is the distance light travels in a year — more than a million million miles.

"All we can say now," Schmidt said, "is that we just don't know the distance of either object."

Bargain Broadcasts Get Results

Nearly all of us at KTIM have benefitted from the SWAP SHOP program—so it's a cinch that listeners have, too . . . Hugh Turner got a terrific buy in a $25 poker table. Lani Bell found a good home for her dog. Bill Thompson sold some garden tools recently. And Chuck Pendleton is always using it—so it must work for him . . . In fact, hardly a day passes that a newcomer to the county doesn't list something he can't find room for in his new home . . .

MOST KTIM LISTENERS to this broadcast (11:30 a.m. Mondays through Fridays) have been very cooperative in mailing us their swap lists since we explained why we aren't taking them over the telephone any more . . .

NOW THE POLITICAL SEASON is beginning to get interesting . . . The "Sounding Board" sponsored by the NORTHWESTERN SAVINGS AND LOAN is setting up several programs for all the county offices. Supervisorial candidates will be invited. On Hugh Turner's TURNERTIME (4 to 4:30 p.m.) Novato City Council candidates will be given free time for stumping. Other office seekers will be buying time for presentation of their personal views . . .

THIS YEAR we hope to get help from the LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS during vote gathering and reporting time on KTIM . . . With hundreds of precincts, we need all the help we can get to report on early tabulations.

1 Burned, 3 Forced To Swim In Bay Boat Fire

A Richmond man suffered second degree burns on his arms and face Saturday afternoon when he and two companions were forced to swim to shore from a boat which burned in San Francisco Bay near the Richmond-San Rafael bridge.

Injured was Myron Henrikson, 28, whose 40 foot cabin cruiser, valued at $10,000, burned to the water line before men aboard two Coast Guard vessels were able to extinguish the fire.

The Marin County sheriff's office said the craft later sank 100 yards north of the bridge.

Henrikson, who was treated at a Richmond hospital, said he raised a long hatch on the boat's deck after one of the other two men, whom he declined to identify, complained of a strange smell.

"A long tongue of flame shot toward me," he said, "and soon it was all over the cabin."

The other men jumped into the water in time to escape serious injury, Henrikson said, but he was burned on his entire right arm and his left forearm as well as his face.

Terms Reached For Uniting Novato, San Jose Schools

Members of the San Jose and Novato Unified School District boards agreed Saturday that a seven-member board elected at large would be best suited to govern the proposed unification of the two districts.

School trustees arrived at three recommendations, to be presented to the augmented Marin Committee on School District Organization at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Novato district administration building.

Their first recommendation was that the board of a unified district be composed of seven members, reported Supt. James G. Bunker of the Novato district. This would provide a broad basis of representation without members representing particular areas, he said.

The second recommendation was that the bonded indebtedness of both districts "be leveled out" into one repayment schedule.

Third was that the total amount to be raised by taxes should not exceed the amount now being raised.

The augmented committee has agreed to hold an election on the unification of the two districts Nov. 3. Approval from the State Board of Education is necessary before the election can be held.

The proposed unified district would include also a portion of the old Burdell School District.

Dock Damage May Not Be Insured

Damage to dock facilities in Marin County by Saturday's tidal wave may not be covered by insurance, it was learned today.

The report from Lowrie's Yacht Harbor was that a tidal wave exclusion clause in its policy will preclude the possibility of collecting damages.

At McCarthy's Loch Lomond Marina, insurance adjusters were to survey the damage today. It had not been learned to what extent the insurance company is liable.

A general insurance broker in San Rafael said there is no hard and fast rule, as each policy must be analyzed individually, but there is a good chance of most boat owners covered by insurance collecting damages under a "comprehensive" policy—unless there is a tidal wave exclusion clause.

Most automobiles damaged by the tidal wave would be covered, he said.

Boy Ejected As Car Turns Over

Gregory Lee Sherfey, 15, of Laurel Avenue, Stinson Beach, was in good condition at Marin General Hospital yesterday with a broken arm suffered when the car he was driving overturned in a ditch on Mesa Road near Bolinas at 7:10 a.m. Friday.

The California Highway Patrol said Sherfey was ejected from the car when it turned over.

40 Complete FBI Training

About 40 Marin County peace officers have completed a three-week training course under direction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The training program, sponsored by the Marin County Peace Officers Assn., wound up last last Friday after 15 sessions.

Most of the instructors were FBI agents. The Marin District Attorney, California Highway Patrol, Judge Joseph G. Wilson, Harvey Teague of the sheriff's office, Chief Howard Clark of Larkspur, and Earl Cummesky of the sheriff's office also served as instructors.

MACY'S SAN RAFAEL, FOURTH AND COURT, GLENWOOD 6-3333: OPEN MONDAY AND FRIDAY 9:30 TO 9; OTHER DAYS 9:30 TO 5:30

tional men and held over the crew."

The greatest police problem, Chiesa said, resulted from sightseers.

The afternoon shift was called out a 1 p.m., he said, to control a traffic jam.

Chiesa said a patrol car circulated in the area over the weekend to watch looting.

No damage was reported to Belvedere police.

At Loch Lomond, which suffered the hardest damage of any harbor in the county, repairs to the first two docks were largely completed by today. But the "F" dock, which was washed a quarter-mile from its original location, was being left in the new spot.

Mrs. Greta Hord, in charge of berthing at the marina, said the dock would be rebuilt, rather than the owners trying to move it back.

She said damage, which roughly estimated $200,000 Saturday, cannot be totalled until repairs are completed.

"Suction did all the damage at Clipper Yacht Co., in Sausalito said Ken Underwood, salesman, today. He said damages to berths, boats and piers was estimated at $75,000.

Marinship Yacht Harbor, nearby, estimated $5,000 damage to floats, pilings, breakwater and boats. Sidney Foster, Sausalito yacht harbor harbormaster, said there was no damage at his harbor. George Kappas reported between $200 and $300 damage to finger piers at Kappas Yacht Harbor.

Ray Bottarini, foreman of Sausalito marine, said a 300 foot coal barge, sunk for years, and which could only bee seen at a minus tide, was moved about 300 yards and had all the mud "siphoned out of it."

Robert Hall, marinship yacht harbor owner, reported 90 per cent of the pilings were lost at Basin Two, his south float was ripped up and the breakwater "busted." He said six boats were damaged but all damages to boats were minor.

70 Convicts Giving Aid In Crescent City

More than 70 convicts from San Quentin Prison's Alder Conservation Camp south of Crescent City are helping Crescent City bale out and mop up this week after being struck by a series of tidal waves triggered by the Alaskan earthquake Friday night.

Dale B. Frady, San Quentin associate warden, said the inmates were working under supervision of the State Division of Forestry and Department of Corrections.

"They will continue until their assistance is no longer needed," he said.

Services of convicts at other conservation camps in the area have been offered, according to Frady.

Crashes Near Home

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two out of three traffic deaths occur within 25 miles of the victim's home, reports the National Safety Council. Thus a seat belt is protection for short drives, not just long trips.

Many Calls On Quake; Funds Being Accepted

The Marin Chapter of the American Red Cross said today it had received 345 telephone calls over the weekend inquiring about friends and relatives who might have been involved in Friday's Alaskan earthquake.

At the same time, chapter chairman Donald W. Chapman of Kentfield said the chapter, along with others throughout the nation, is accepting contributions for the quake victims.

Since Saturday morning, the chapter said, Red Cross aides have processed 139 telegrams and given information, most of it limited, to 205 other Marinites.

Mrs. John Shortridge, home service worker, said preference is being given to cases involving close relatives, at least until communications between here and Alaska are back to normal. But she said the chapter is not refusing to take inquiries of any kind.

But she urged that anyone who learns about relatives or friends through other means, such as ham radio operators, should have the names removed from the Red Cross lists to avoid unnecessary effort.

Some six persons have been reached by wire, telephone or amateur radio so far, according to Mrs. Shortridge.

Contributions may be mailed or brought to the chapter headquarters at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, Chapman said, and should be marked "Alaskan earthquake relief."

Aid Offered To Victims In Alaska

Aid to victims of the violent earthquake which rocked Anchorage, Alaska, Friday night was sent and offered Saturday from Hamilton Air Force Base and Smyth Movers.

Four HU-16 amphibious rescue planes with 45 men were sent from Hamilton AFB early Saturday to help in rescue operations in the heavily damaged city.

The planes are working out of McCord Air Force Base in Washington, flying to Anchorage to pick up the injured victims and returning them to Washington for care.

Mrs. Hazel Thole, vice president of Smyth Worldwide Movers, offered the warehouses of the company and its moving vans to the rescue operation.

The warehouses in Seattle, Anchorage and Tacoma are being used for storage of supplies which will be airlifted to Anchorage.

Personnel and a moving van also were offered to take medical supplies from Seattle to Anchorage via the Alcan Highway, according to Mrs. Thole. Alaskan city has been repaired to receive vessels carrying supplies, there will be no need for the additional help.

Teeners Praised For Tides Work

A group of teen-agers whose names are not known received high praise today from a Canal Street resident who watched the youths "take charge" when swift tides struck San Rafael boat docks Saturday.

Mrs. W. J. Rasp, of 260 Canal Street, who said her feelings were shared by many other apartment owners in the area, said four of five "wonderful boys" jumped into the water and saved a number of boats when the wave struck in predawn hours.

She said the youths acted quickly while some boat owners "just stood around, feeling helpless and not knowing what to do." The boys went into the water repeatedly, she said, and 'we were afraid they were going to drown."

Other boys performed similar acts in the 400 block of Canal Street, Mrs. Rasp said. In the excitement, no one learned their names.

CRESCENT

assaulted a fishing fleet and moved landward.

Back toward town, buildings were ripped from their foundations, and tossed many blocks away. Then came death.

William Eugene Wright, 10 months old, was snatched from his mother's arms as she tried to get free of the rising waters. The tot drowned, as did his sister, Bonita Ione, 3 years.

The battering ram force of the advancing and receding tidal wave wrought a havoc that tossed cars over like toys, holed fixed cement walls, wiped out complete inventories in a wink, and left some 150 businesses as worthless as so much garbage. About 350 persons were left homeless, but they were found temporary homes by the Red Cross.

A looter was arrested on the beach as he stood knee-deep in water filling his Easter basket with goodies floating out of a supermarket.

Most of the businessmen were wiped out financially. A few were self-insured against tidal waves.

Two of the town's three banks were virtually destroyed, the United California Bank and the Wells Fargo Bank. But neither lost any cash from their vaults and they planned to set up temporary headquarters. The Bank of America was spared.

Goods and services businesses were knocked flat. The town's only used car lot is a shabby pile of junk. Both supermarkets were flooded and lost much of their merchandise.

Barber shops, restaurants, a variety store, bars, motels and other downtown-type businesses are no more. Gas stations and car repair shops were flattened. Retail dry goods shops were 100 per cent ruined.

It was almost anti-climatic when Rep. Dan H. Clausen, who has an insurance business in Crescent City, announced yesterday he would wire a request to President Lydon B. Johnshon that h declare the little Northern California coast town a major disaster area.

What happens after the cleanup? Everybody in the city knows that. Build again.

Pat Hanratty, secretary-manager of the Crescent City Chamber of Commerce, said businessmen will construct anew in the same places hit by the waves. The town is small and must protect its assessed valuation, he said.

ALASKA

Whittier, 1 dead, 12 presumed dead, 1 injured.

Cordova, 1 dead, injured unknown.

Port Ashton, 1 dead, 5 presumed dead, injured unknown.

A stunned population began to realize the economic ruin carried by the quake. In some communities, industry was as much as 95 per cent wiped out.

"It might take a year and a half to two years to rebuild," said Mayor Bruce Woodford of smashed Valdez, "but we'll make it."

Egan said his estimate of property damage was conservative. Other unofficial estimates were higher.

Egan had increased the figure after visiting Valdez, his home town.

Information from many of the heavy-hit areas was sketchy at best. In Kokiak, where a tidal wave washed out the waterfront, one report said martial law had been proclaimed. Police refused to confirm or deny the report.

Valdez, a tiny fishing port of 1,000 residents on the Gulf of Alaska east of Anchorage, appeared the hardest sit. Most of its dead were swept away when a seismic surge collapsed the city's dock while a freighter was being unloaded. An eyewitness reported: "It was as though the bottom had dropped out of the ocean."

In addition to the Alska casualties, 16 were killed in California and Oregon seismic waves.

Afatershocks from the Good Friday temblor, believed one of the most powerful in history, continued as residents began the work of reconstruction, vowing to rebuild better than ever.

Only late yesterday, some 48 hours after the first stunning shock, did the full picture of death and damage begin to emerge from smaller communities bordering the Gulf of Alaska.

At Kodiak, the big island to the south that is home to ferocious bears, three separate walls of water rolled up a narrow channel leading to Kodiak, town and demolished the waterfront, wiping out canneries.

At Seward, 90 to 95 per cent of the industry in the town of 1,700 was destroyed, leaving its male population without employment. Seward, major rail supply center for the interior, lost most of its harbor and rail facilities and 29 homes. After the quake came waves, ripping through town, then fire.

At Valdez, where the bay is 35 feet deep, the 400-foot freighter Chena hit bottom when water was sucked out during wild wave action. Then it was foated so high that residents far inland, who normally cannot see ships in the harbor, spotted it bobbing.

The town was so hard hit it was evacuated, with most of the residents encamped at Bulkana 117 miles north.

In all stricken communities, spirits were high in the face of tragedy.

Alaska has been declared a disaster area by President Lyndon B. Johnson, and leaders hope for additional aid.

"Please make it simple with no red tape," said City Manage, James W. Harrison of Seward. "This town is not going to fold up, but we couldn't float a bond issue on peanut butter right now."

Edward A. McDermott, President Johnson's personal representative on the scene, was flying back to Washington today to recommend further special relief legislation.

McDermott said it was obvious the full disaster relief program permitted under present law would not be enough.

At best, he said, it would take two or four months to get Alaskan economy into any workable shape.

Alaska Senators Ernest Gruening and E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, also Washington-bound, indicated they would press for an immediate aid grant in Congress.

The Alaskan Railroad, vital route from Seward to the interior, was a jumble of wrecked cars and twisted rails. A mile-long waterfront area collapsed into the sea.

All along the ring of the Gulf of Alaska where the great quake struck in fury at 5:36 p.m. Friday it was a similar story of low casualties but mighty ruin.

One hundred and five miles southeast of Anchorage, reports from the small town of Valdez—pronounced "Valdeez"—said many of the dead were on a dock that collapsed when hit by a huge sea wave.

One shake, felt strongly in Anchorage Easter evening, was rated at 7.3 on the Richter scale by the University of Washington at Seattle, 1,500 miles away. University scientists said it was a separate quake, in the Aleutian trench 600 miles northwest of Friday's epicenter, but Anchorage felt it.

An earlier mid-afternoon shock led to a civil defense warning of a new tidal wave headed for Seward. It was called off.

The Friday evening quake was rated by experts at 8.2 to 8.7 on the Richter scale. This scale, measuring the release of energy, had never before rated a quake higher than 8.6 and then only rarely and in unpopulated places.

Anchorage wholesale grocers estimated they had about a 30-day stock of essential foods on and—mostly in wrecked warehouse, but still usable.

Electric current was being restored slowly. Many homes and buildings were without light, heat or power.

Drinking water had to be boiled or melted from snow. Mass typhoid inoculations were arranged.

Police, soldiers and National Guardsmen, patrolling downtown Anchorage, reported on cases of attempted looting.

Workers started pulling down teetering four-ton slabs of the modernistic five-story J. C. Penney store and other d angerous ruins. Dynamiting was considered and rejected.

A civil defense official said, "It is still possible some victims are in the rubble. We might not get to some for quite a while."

OBITUARIES

Paul Sapp Rites Set Saturday

Memorial services for Paul M. Sapp, former Marin County resident, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Church of the Good Shepherd, 6226 Arlington Avenue, Richmond.

Sapp, 57, died of a heart attack Saturday at his home in El Cerrito.

A native of Missouri, he moved to Marin County in 1945, living here until 1962, when he moved to El Cerrito. He served 33 years with the Public Housing Administration and Federal Power Commission.

Since the time he left Marin, Sapp was a utilities engineer for Safeway Stores, Inc. He was a member of Sigma Phi Delta, professional engineering fraternity, and of the Mill Valley Methodist Church, the California Historical Society, and United World Federalists.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy; two sons, George Sapp of San Pablo and Robert Sapp of Stockton; a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Elliott of San Pablo, and a brother, Joseph Flemming of La Mirada.

Burial will be private.

MARIE LUND

Funeral for Marie Kristine Lund, 84, who had lived at Aldersly Danish Home in San Rafael, for seven years will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

A native of Denmark, she had lived in California 49 years and died at the home Saturday after a brief illness.

Burial will be private.

CARL EK

Funeral for Carl G. Ek, 76, of 12 Chanticleer Avenue, Larkspur, who died Friday at home after a long illness, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

A native of Sweden, he had lived in Marin County since 1954.

He was a member of Golden Gate Lodge 30, Free and Accepted Masons; Odin Lodge 393, Independent Order of Odd Fellows of San Francisco, and the Swedish Society of San Francisco.

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Agda Benson of Ohio, Mrs. Alice Johnson of Seattle, Wash., Miss Ingeborg Ek and Mrs. Maria Pihl of Sweden, and a zrother, John E. Ek of Sweden.

Burial will be private.

SUSIE EWING

Funeral for Mrs. Susie C. Ewing, 80, longtime Mill Valley resident, will be held at 2 a.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch Mortuary. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Mrs. Ewing suffered a heart attack Thursday and was taken to a local hospital, where she died Friday.

She was a native of Springfield, Ill., and had lived in California 70 years, moving with her family to Mill Valley 56 years ago. She resided at 65 Catalpa Avenue.

Mrs. Ewing is survived by her husband, Roy E. Ewing, a retired employee of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.; a son, Roy E. Ewing Jr. of Elgin, Ariz.; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Janes of Bishop, Inyo County, and two grandchildren.

She was a member of the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club and the Church of Christ Scientist, Mill Valley.

JACK BAGLEY

Jack Bagley, 72, of Point Reyes, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

He was brought to Marin County for treatment last week after he became ill in a Petaluma hotel, according to hospital records.

An autopsy will be performed this week and funeral arrangements are pending at Redwood Funeral Home, Novato.

R. C. HUBBARD

Funeral for Rufus C. Hubbard, a former San Rafael employee of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., was held last week in Seattle. Hubbard died March 22 at the Masonic Home at Zenith, Wash.

He was born in Los Angeles in 1880. After retiring from PG&E employ in San Rafael, he and his wife moved to Vashon Island, Wash. He was a member of the Mark P. Waterman Masonic Lodge and the Burton Community Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Chaunce Beattie and Mrs. Homer Gillette of Vashon, four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

J. W. KINLOCK

A Requiem Mass will be celebrated for Joseph W. Kinlock, 86, of 40 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo.

Kinlock, a retired carpenter, died at a local rest home Saturday after a long illness. A native of Hopland, Mendocino County, he had lived in Marin County for 26 years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Katherine Marcellin of San Anselmo, with whom he was living, a brother, George Kinlock of Ukiah, Mendocino County, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Goodrich of Cloverdale, Sonoma County, Mrs. Eva Johnson of Ukiah, and Mrs. Agnes Saum of Bakersfield; also three grandchildren.

Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be decited at 8 p.m. today at the Chapel of the Hills. The family prefers that memorials be contributions to favorite charities.

85th Plane Victim Sought In Nevada

MINDEN, Nev. (AP) — Sheriff's officers hoped to recover today the 85th body in the March 1 crash of a Paradise Airlines Constellation on a snow covered western Nevada mountain ridge.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Delorey went to the site, between Minden and Lake Tahoe, yesterday and found what he thought was a body.

Kentucky Colonel Membership Gets Man Over Border

LOUISVILLE (AP) — If it had not been for his Kentucky Colonel commission, Edmond R. Schlesinger might still be stranded in Canada.

Schlesinger, a native of Austria, was vacationing near Canada when he decided to cross the border. On the return trip, the border guard requested Schlesinger's citizenship papers.

He had forgotten them but pulled out his driver's license, insurance papers and various membership cards.

None satisfied the guard until Schlesinger displayed his identification as a Kentucky colonel.

"Oh," the guard sighed, "Now that's okay. You may proceed."

2 Mighty Gifts To City On Paper

FITCHBURG, Mass. (UPI) — Eighty years ago, Rodney Wallace, a paper manufacturer, gave this city a public library.

Now that library is to be razed to make room for a new $500,000 library, the gift of Wallace's grandson, George R. Wallace Jr., also a paper manufacturer.

waders and dragged him down. The Coast Guard was notified and dispatched a helicopter and later a launch, but search for the body was unsuccessful.

Deputy Sheriff John J. Santos said today he and other sheriff's officers have since made periodic checks of the bay shores without success. He said attempts were made prior to Dirksen's drowning and since to warn all persons about the surge dangers, but many could not be reached and others ignored the warnings. It was not known if Dirksen had been forewarned.

According to Deputy Santos, the surges have occurred irregularly since the main tidal wave which struck Marin County shores at 2:30 a.m. Saturday, but have diminished steadily. The danger at noon today was minimal, he added.

Coed Seriously Hurt Trapped Under Jeep

A San Jose State College student was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a possibly broken spine after the jeep in which she was riding turned over late Saturday on a Point Reyes beach.

Cathy Weidig, 17, of Leesburg, Ore., was a passenger in a jeep driven by James Marshall Wells, 19, of Hermosa Beach.

The jeep was loaded with students from San Jose State College, according to the highway patrol. Marshall attempted to drive up a steep incline at 10 Mile Beach. The vehicle overturned. All occupants managed to jump clear except Miss Weidig, who was pinned under the jeep.

A Novato mother and her son were treated at Marin General Hospital last night for injuries suffered when her car ran into a ditch on the Point Reyes-Petaluma Road, one mile west of Novato Boulevard, at 9:30 p.m.

Mrs. Patricia Helberg, 31, of Novato was treated for cuts and bruises and her son, Richard, 11, for face cuts. Mrs. Helberg said the car swerved as she turned to tell her son something.

Troubled Transport With 9 Still Sought Off Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "There's somebody out there in a liferaft . . . we're sure of that," a Coast Guard spokesman said today as search widened for a transport plane, with nine men aboard, that vanished off the California coast Saturday.

Long range search planes, Coast Guard cutters and Navy vessels criss-crossed a vast ocean area of some 18,000 miles today.

Pilot, Capt. Harry Baker, 59, of Fallon, Nev. radioed "We might have to ditch."

The pilot said he had a bad fire in his No. 2 engine and asked for a "ditching heading."

The big plane, owned by Facilities Management Corp. of Los Angeles, was inbound from Wake Island after a refueling stop at Honolulu. It was headed for Los Angeles.

Three C-54s from Elgin Air Force Base, Fla., have been sent to Hamilton Air Force Base to aid in the search. They are operating out of the Western Air Rescue Headquarters at Hamilton.

Brown Pledges No Redwood Cut For Road

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — "So far as I as governor am concerned not a single redwood will be destroyed to build a freeway," Gov. Edmund G. Brown pledged today.

Brown made a one-day tour of standing redwoods and slashed areas in Northwestern California Friday before his trip was cut short by Crescent City's disaster.

He termed the slashed areas that have been logged for lumber a "desecration."

The trip arose from opposition from conservationists all over the nation over plans of highway builders to route a main coastal highway either through redwoods or along a wild beach.

Brown told the governor's council he did not know what route should be chosen. But he said it was "sacreligious" to mow down venerable redwoods.

Crowd Disrupts Arizona Capitol

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — More than 100 clapping, chanting civil rights demonstrators seeking a public accommodations bill disrupted business in the state capitol today while an even larger number marched outside.

The demonstrtors started a sit-in in the governor's office lobby this morning. The number participating in the demonstration increased rapidly and by noon more than 100 were marching around the second floor rotunda in front of the governor's office.

Their singing, chanting and clapping resounded throughout the capitol, bringing business in some offices to a halt.

Bagley To Make Talk In El Cerrito

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael), a key campaigner for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, will speak to the California Junior Statesmen of America in El Cerrito next Saturday.

Strawbridge Joins Tiburon Council Race

Gordon W. Strawbridge announced to the Tiburon Citizens Committee meeting Saturday that he will be a candidate for Tiburon City Council in the June 2 election.

Strawbridge and his wife, Elizabeth, live at 1921 Mar East. He is associated with Graphic Arts of Marin, Inc., in Sausalito and formerly owned Strawbridge's Camera and Stationery Store in Mill Valley. He was a member of the Mill Valley City Council for six years and mayor for two. He is a graduate of Haverford College and the Harvard school of business.

The citizens committee voted to support Strawbridge.

Branwell Fanning of Reedlands said: "It is now or never for Tiburon incorporation. The Corte Madera master plan calls for annexation up to the Trestle Glen Road along Paradise Drive. Belvedere has filed annexation proceedings for a portion of Tiburon. If incorporations fails, Belvedere proceedings will be acted upon immediately."

A steering committee was formed of Peter MacGowan of Rolling Hills, Joseph L. Keller of Hawthorne Terrace, John C. McChesney of Hill Haven, and Fanning of Reedlands. Mrs. Frank Ryan of Hill Haven will be secretary-treasurer.

Geoffrey R. Jones of Hawthorne Terrace was chosen as chairman of a subcommittee to prepare a questionnaire for candidates, along with David D. Ring of Hill Haven, Mrs. Richard M. Sims of Rolling Hills, and Keller.

Another meeting is scheduled for April 11 and a candidates' night will be held in late April, according to McChesney.

British Premier's Daughter Married

COLDSTREAM, Scotland (AP) —Pretty Meriel Douglas-Home —daughter of the British prime minister—married 26-year-old Adrian Darby today.

Meriel, 24, is a guitar-playing independent young woman who has worked as a waitress and a salesgirl.

With Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home smilingly looking on, the golden-haired Meriel wed the Oxford University teacher she first met at London's Covent Garden Royal Opera House.

Novato Driver Hurt In San Anselmo Crash

Cathleen Ann Bradford, 20, of 490 Via Herbosa, Novato, suffered a cut lower lip Saturday afternoon wher her car collided with the rear end of another vehicle on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard east of Bella Vista Avenue, San Anselmo.

She told San Anselmo police that her foot missed the brake pedal when she attempted to stop her car before running into the vehicle driven by Fred David McDougall, 17, of Boardwalk 1, Larkspur. She was not cited.

3-Month-Old Boy Hurt In Car Crash

A three-month-old Vallejo child suffered a bruised forehead in an auto accident Saturday evening in which his father was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Kaydon J. Cockburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Cockburn of Vallejo, was treated at Marin General Hospital after his father's car collided with one driven by Mary Murphy, 21, of 28 Hillcrest Court, San Anselmo, on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Bridge Avenue, San Anselmo.

Sunspots have been observed and described since the ancient Chinese thought they saw "flying birds" in the sun.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Fusselman, France Asked To Debate Kettenhofen

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, candidate for supervisor in the second district, today challenged his two opponents (William D. Fusselman and Jess J. France Jr.) to meet in political debate.

Harold Watkin, chairman of the Kettenhofen for Supervisor Citizens Committee, in making the announcement, said Kettenhofen would like to meet "with any group to discuss, debate or answer questions in open forum pertaining to the present or future of Marin County."

Watkin said he has sent a notice to this effect to all organizations which might be interested in sponsoring the discussion.

SCHULTZ AIDES

Donald Stanley of Forest Knolls and Mrs. George Steen-Larsen of Woodacre have been appointed San Geronimo Valley co-chairmen for the Vera Schultz for State Senate campaign.

Mrs. John C. Kittle of Ross, who has been active in conservation, art and civic affairs, has been named Ross chairman for Mrs. Shultz.

NEW OFFICERS

Charles Michals, president; Paul Haerle, executive vice president; Walter Kieckhefer and Rodgers Broomhead, vice presidents; Harry Diner, secretary, and Charles Daniels Jr., treasurer.

PRO AMERICA

Members of Pro America will meet at a tea at 1 p.m. next Monday at the home of Mrs. H. M. Mangels, 301 Highland Avenue, San Rafael. Vander Ende from Crocker-Citizens Bank will speak on the gold outflow problem.

Mrs. David Patterson, president, said guests are welcome to the meeting.

45 On Plane Die

NAPLES, Italy (UPI)—Government investigators climbed the lava rocks of Mount Vesuvius today to seek the cause of Saturday's crash of an Alitalia airliner in which all 45 persons aboard, including eight Americans, were killed. The British-made turbo-prop plane lost contact with Naples Airport and struck the volcano at about the 2,000-foot level.

Steer Is Purchased

Schedule Of County Budget Talks Changed

Two changes in the schedule of budget discussions between county department heads and the county administrator and auditor-controller were announced today.

Talks with the county counsel were put back from today to 4 p.m. Wednesday and discussion of the parks and recreation budget were moved from Thursday to 2 p.m. April 10.

$15,000 MINK COAT STOLEN FROM AUTO

A $15,000 mink coat was stolen from a Belvedere man's car, parked at the San Francisco International Airport while he was on a week's trip out of the city.

Peter G. Mantegani, 45, of 57 Bellevue Avenue told San Mateo County sheriff's deputies Friday that he discovered the full-length, black diamond mink coat and two suitcases containing men's and women's clothing, valued at $400 were missing from the car when he returned from the trip.

The coat belonged to Mantegani's sister-in-law, Mrs. Thelma Gullia of Shaker Heights, Ohio, he reported.

Mantegani said a window of his locked car had been forced open.

April 10 Deadline For Property Tax

April 10 is the final day to pay the second installment of property taxes in Marin County.

Marin county treasurer-tax collector Stanley J. Fontez said today $10,840,967.06 in taxes will come due on that date. He said his office at the Civic Center will stay open until 9 p.m. on April 8, 9 and 10 for convenience of taxpayers.

Mailed tax payments postmarked before midnight, April 10, will be considered on time, he said.

Larkspur Cyclist Hurt Hitting Car

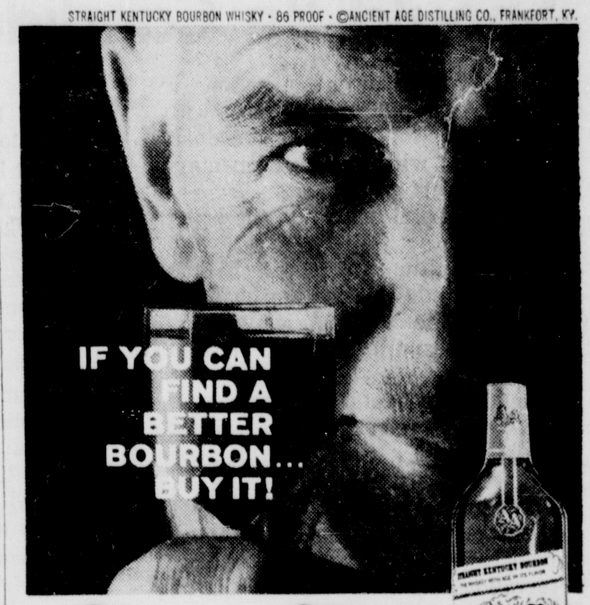

Robert David Freid, 12, of 110 Sycamore Avenue, Larkspur was treated for a sprained right elbow yesterday yesterday at Marin General Hospital after the bicycle he was riding hit the side of a car on Marsh Road at 4:30 p.m.

Mildred Young of 119 King Street was driving through the Larkspur Lumber Co. property on the road when the youth rode his bicycle out from behind a stack of lumber, according to Larkspur police.

"I saw it in the paper..."

...means she has faith in what she reads there. You've said it yourself many a time. You have confidence that it's true, if you read it in the paper. And that's a good place for an advertiser to be, surrounded by news and editorial features that people feel are authoritative. According to an actual survey, 8 out of 10 people felt that newspapers are "reliable" and "dependable;" more than 7 out of 10 felt them to be "believable." This receptive frame of mind extends to the advertising messages. In the same survey, newspaper advertising is rated high in positive, and low in negative feelings. So whatever you want to sell them, tell them about it in the newspaper.

We take pleasure in announcing that . . .

Unification Opponents Should Be Candidates Too

An unforeseen complication is manifesting itself in connection with the proposal for unifying Tamalpais High School with all the elementary school districts it embraces.

This proposal will be on the ballot June 2.

On the same ballot will be the names of candidates for the board of trustees of the huge unified district, should it be approved and come into being.

And herein lies the difficulty.

Some proven, experienced trustees of existing districts who would make valuable contributions by serving on the new unified board (if it comes into being) are hesitant about becoming candidates. These reluctant ones have reservations about certain aspects of the specific unification proposal that will be on the ballot.

They do NOT wish to support it.

They fear that to become candidates for trustee of the unified district would imply their endorsement of the proposal.

Since they do not wish to be endorsers, they thus far have been reluctant to become candidates.

That is the complication.

It is a problem because many of these reluctant ones could and would, if unification takes place and they were elected to the unified board, make valuable contributions to the operation of the new consolidation of districts.

It has been suggested that candidates campaigning for the board who favor unification would contribute to voter enlightment by exhanging views or debating at various candidates' nights with board candidates who oppose unification.

We would like to add our voice to those who urge elementary district trustees opposed to unification to become candidates nevertheless for the unified district board, just in case it becomes reality.

There is still ample time for candidates to file. The filing deadline is not until April 17.

Who Put That Worm In Our Apple?

If, perchance, this autumn you should find your apples, pears and other fruit has a goodly number of worms in them and wonder how the culprits got there, the answer is that they got there from eggs laid in the blossoms about now.

The apple coddling moth is an attractive, small, brownish creature. Although "apple" is part of its name, this moth has a far ranging appetite and in recent years has even become a serious pest in California's walnut industry.

About the time the blossoms drop, most fruit trees should be sprayed with DDT or some other member of the family.

However, even with a complete spray program a few worms make it into the fall fruit. Just enough to perpetuate the old joke about what is worse than finding a worm in an apple? Half a worm, of course.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

April 9 Is Last Day To Register For June 2 Primary Election

By WAT TAKESHITA

TAKESHITA

IF YOU WANT to vote in the June 2 primary, April 9 is the last day to make sure you are registered as a voter.

This and other election reminders are listed in a concise leaflet prepared by the county's League of Women Voters, a non-partisan group interested primarily in promoting voter responsibility.

IT'S SUCH a handy guide for all voters, we'll reprint key dates and information here for those who want the electin calendar in a nutshell.

April 9—Registration closes for June 2 primary. You must register if you: (1) have not registered in state before, (2) failed to vote in the last general election, (3) moved since you registered, (4) changed your name since registering, or (4) if you wish to change your party affiliation.

April 14—City elections in all cities except San Rafael. (This does not include Tiburon, which is not yet a city. That election falls on June 2).

May 4 to May 26 — Apply for absentee ballots for June 2 election at county clerk's office in San Rafael courthouse.

June 2—Primary election.

Sept. 10—Last day to register for Nov. 3 election.

Oct. 5 to Oct. 27—Apply for absentee ballots for Nov. 3 election.

Nov. 3—General election.

OFFICES UP FOR election this year are:

U.S. Senator, term six years, incumbent Clair Engle.

Representative for First Congressional District (Marin, Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Napa, Sonoma), term two years, incumbent Don Clausen.

State Senator, 13th District (Marin), term four years, incumbent John F. McCarthy.

State Assemblyman, 7th District (Marin-Sonoma), term two years, incumbent William T. Bagley.

County Supervisor District 1 (San Rafael area), incumbent Byron W. Leydecker. (This term is for only two more years because Leydecker is serving out the unexpired term of the late Walter Castro).

County Supervisor District 2 (Ross Valley), incumbent William D. Fusselman, term four years.

County Supervisor District 3 (South Marin), incumbent Peter Behr is unopposed, term four years.

County Supervisor District 4 (West Marin), incumbent George Ludy, term four years.

Municipal Court Judges Harold J. Haley and Joseph G. Wilson, and Judge David R. Baty of the Northwestern Judicial District, all unopposed.

County Central Committeemen in each political party, term two years.

Let The President Know How We Feel

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This holy week we are celebrating the deathless spirit of One whose great message to the world was love. He taught us to love not only our neighbor but also our enemy. But in Vietnam, we go on killing. Or maybe we're just supervising the killing. However it may be, the killing is perpetrated with weapons and military advisors supplied by you and me. It's done in our name. Our taxes pay for it.

I think the least we can do if we think this war is immoral and un-Christian is to let the president know how we feel . . .

Here's More About Doctors' Argument

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to respond to Dr. Leo A. Wagner's letter of March 17 and his vicious personal attack of Dr. Robertson Ward. I hope that some other colleagues of Dr. Ward will arise to his defense.

Nowhere in his earlier letter did Dr. Ward deal in personalities. Nowhere did he mention civil rights or Negroes. His letter dealt entirely with the UN and the assassination of the late President Kennedy. Yet Dr. Wagner, evidently not being able to debate the issues involved, resorts to THE BIG SMEAR. He characterizes Dr. Ward's views as "the paranoid suspicion of all the righteous Bircher-types." (Incidentally, the correct Pavlovian reflex word as suggested by The People's World is "Birchist".) Dr. Ward made the point that United States' sovereignty comes before allegiance to the UN and that a political candidate should put "freedom of the individual first and foremost." In response Dr. Wagner, in his own self-righteousness, asks whether Dr. Ward is "really worried about (the freedom) of a well-to-do doctor in Marin County or that of a poor Negro in Alabama who can't eat in a decent restaurant, much less vote." What's that got to do with the UN?

Regarding internal Communism, Dr. Wagner seeks to reassure us by citing a recent TV "documentary" which minimized the internal menace of Communism. This TV program, using the classical brainwashing technique, was 95 per cent correct in its presentation of facts; however after leading the viewer along with these valid facts, it arrives at the wrong conclusions, i.e. there is no internal menace. Personally, I would rather believe J. Edgar Hoover who correctly describes the Communists as "Masters of Deceit" and, as recently as December 3, 1963, (10 days after the assassination) repeated his October 18, 1960, warning: "We are at war with the Communists and the sooner every red-blooded American realizes it the better and safer we will be," particularly in view of the fact that since World War II, while the UN has stood idly by (I might add), Communism has taken over a score of countries: Poland, Roumania, East Germany, Bulgaria, Hungary, China, Tibet, etc. — 800 million people — all from within, not one by external force.

Also, I would like to know WHO is "harrying" the "few thousand harried die-hards (Communists)" that Dr. Wagner mentions? The convictions of (11) leaders of the Communist Party USA, for violation of the Smith Act, has long since been overturned by the Warren Court. President Eisenhower, by executive order on May 17, 1954, effectively stopped all investigation of subversion in the executive branch. Since that date, all any employee of the executive branch who is called before Congressional committee, need say is "I cannot answer that question without approval of my superior"; that is, they do not even have to use the Fifth Amendment any more. Therefore the conspiracy has had ten undisturbed years to fade into the woodwork.

Finally, I am sure Dr. Ward now knows that there is nothing which will bring the wrath of the "peace-loving" internationalists down on his head quicker than to disagree with one or to mention that "dirty" word, patriotism.

Owners Responsible For Actions Of Dogs

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have seen several letters in the paper about dogs digging up gardens and running in front of cars.

I feel that dogs are being blamed for something that is not their fault. It's up to the owners to keep their dogs in.

Unification 'Loyal Opposition' Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The question of unification of the Tamalpais Union High School District will be presented to the voters in the election of June 2. The question is a most controversial one. That the controversy is real is well evidenced by the lengthy delay in getting it to a popular vote at all—nearly a dozen years in committee before finally emerging by a vote of 13 to 10. . . .

The many fine, capable and interested people who have consistently opposed the unification proposal . . . are reluctant to be jockeyed into the position of standing for election as trustee in a school district which they honestly believe should never be created.

There is no justification for this reluctance on their part. Their honest opposition, justifiably presented to the voters in support of their view is most earnestly needed and to deny it at a time when the issue is pressing will be a disservice to the entire community. The viewpoint of the opposition is necessary to bring into focus those real issues which should be the very foundation of their long-standing negative vote on this proposal which the people are now asked to decide. The honest difference of opinion among these lay leaders on this important question must now be revealed for public consideration. And it will undoubtedly be revealed the best, and most completely, as they seek the office of trustee in the new district should it succeed at the polls. Loyal opposition has always been most welcome. . .

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A FRIEND OF mine and his wife motored from their home in Long Island to visit a relative in Vermont. The wife had a map spread out on her lap and suddenly exclaimed: "Slow up, Herbert! You turn right on this road here." Herbert turned right, but grumbled: "I bet you're messing things up again! I don't like the looks of this road."

He liked it even less when it trailed off into a cowpath. Stopping the car, he cried: "Let me have a look at that map." He studied it for a moment, then explained wearily: "Darling, that is not a road. That is the state border line."

A COUPLE FROM Maine, driving clear to California, tarried at a fancy new Arizona motel for a bite of luncheon. Back from the reception hall came the red-faced wife to inquire: "Quick, Otto, what am I—a heifer or a steer?"

Southeast Asian Danger Twofold —From Red China And Indonesia

SINGAPORE—Most of the leaders of Southeast Asia seem acutely aware of the threat overhanging their countries from Red China.

They are so aware of it that they shrink from talking about it.

At the Conference on Economic Development organized by the Council on World Tensions, which I attended in Kuala Lumpur, the silence with which the Asian participants met all efforts to draw them out on Peking's non-peaceful co-existence was striking.

I SUSPECT there were two reasons — a combination of chill concern and wishful hope that, if they did not talk about it, the Peking peril would go away.

It won't. India found that out.

But the Chinese Communists are not the only force which today threatens the stability and economic development of this area.

There is the rampant nationalism of Indonesia, where President Sukarno has kept revolutionary ferment at fever pitch at the cost of the economic disruption of his whole country.

SUKARNO SIMPLY can't abide seeing the newly created independent nation of Malaysia, along with Thailand and the Philippines—all with strong Western associations —achieve an orderly evolution. He sees it as a plot to restore Western colonialism.

Sukarno is Southeast Asia's chief prophet of revolutionary nationalism on a world scale. It is his avowed intention to crush Malaysia. He is using the cry of anti-colonialism as the excuse to try to bring Malaysia under Indonesian influence.

By Sukarno's own revolutionary standards, Malaysia, Thailand and the Philippines are insufferably moderate and "conformist." Thus, from his viewpoint, they are subverting the revolution he envisages.

IT IS CLEAR that Sukarno is committed to a kind of continuous revolution which keeps Indonesia in mounting ferment and which requires him perpetually to relive the glorious past of the anti-colonial struggle.

It causes him to treat his Southeast Asian neighbors as dangerous enemies when they choose a more moderate approach to modifying their traditional heritage. The Malaysians simply do not fear that they will be re-colonialized by the British. More exasperating, they do not wish to be colonialized in part or in whole by the Indonesians.

There is, therefore, a double danger to independence and stability in Southeast Asia today. One danger comes from Peking, the other from Indonesia.

The Malaysian moderates bitterly fear domination by Red China and want Western protection against Peking.

THE INDONESIAN revolutionaries bitterly fear domination by the Western powers. They want every other Southeast Asian nation to eject the West, even though this would create the most inviting vacuum for Red China to fill.

It is hard for Westerners to take this fear of a returned colonialism seriously for two reasons. The former colonialists—the Dutch, British, Germans and French — have found that they are better off in the modern world without colonies. Secondly, the Europeans and the Americans have little taste for becoming involved in distant military actions.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

State Department Ducks Oswald Case

WASHINGTON—The State Department is "washing its hands" of blame in clearing the way for accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald to return to the U.S.

High-ranking authorities, including Assistant Secretary Frederick Dutton, Administrator Abba Schwartz, Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, and legal adviser Abram Chayes, are launching a high-powered backstage campaign to clear the State Department of any mishandling of the Oswald case.

THEY ARE SENDING letters and privately briefing members of Congress, the press, and the special Warren Commission probing the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, to back up their claim that the department had no other course in handling Oswald's request than to permit the Marxist defector to return.

In a letter to Sen. John Tower (R-Tex.) Dutton flatly contends the State Department had no legal weapon to bar Oswald's return, stating:

"The question whether an individual has lost his U.S. citizenship must be determined in accordance with the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952.

"For example, a person desiring to renounce his U.S. citizenship under section 349 (a) (6) of the act must make a formal renouncement of nationality before a diplomatic or consular officer of the U.S. abroad in the form prescribed by the secretary of state.

"Lee Harvey Oswald did not renounce his nationality in accordance with provisions of this section, and therefore did not lose his U.S. citizenship under these provisions."

DESPITE THIS FLAT State Department denial, its own records show that Oswald appeared at the American Embassy in Moscow following his defection in 1959, and announced that he meant to become a Soviet citizen, swearing in an affidavit that "I affirm that my allegiance is to the Soviet Socialist Republic."

Under the State Department's interpretation, Oswald technically did not renounce his U.S. citizenship since he failed to sign the document in the presence of the consular officer, as reguired by the 1952 Immigration Act.

However, the records clearly show that Oswald intended to give up his citizenship. He handed his affidavit to a Central Intelligence employee who was masquerading as a State Department political officer in the embassy.

SECRETARY DUTTON also revealed that any one of the more than 200 U.S. defectors now living behind the Iron Curtain or in Cuba could demand passports at any time an return to the U. S. as long as they haven't formally renounced their citizenship.

He wrote, "There is no provision in our laws covering a 'defector' who has not committed one of the expatriative acts set forth in the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952."

He stressed that under the State Department's interpretation of the law, "In the event an individual has not performed an expatriative act, his U.S. citizenship and his entrance into this country cannot be denied."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Irish Writer Brendan Behan Kissed, Danced, Sang, Drank In Mill Valley

"TWAS BETTER to die 'neath an Irish sky than at Suvla or Sud-el-Bar," said Brendan Behan in his poem, "Dublin's Fair City." And so he did.

Behan made a brief visit to Marin in May of 1961, kissed Helen Kerr at her real estate office and danced on the tables at the No name. "He always drank champagne," said Mrs. Neil Davis.

Wanting to get away from the crowds, he looked up Jimmie Quinn in Mill Valley and then went to the Old Mill Tavern. There, according to builder Bill Floto of Stinson Beach, he "had a couple of horns, bought a couple of rounds and sang happy birthday to a fellow who had a birthday. He also sang some Irish tunes. The most outgoing, honest, truthful, square individual I have ever met," said Floto.

THAT WHITE China goose with the bump on his head didn't last long at the Lytton Square barnyard in Mill Valley. He was kicked out, according to George Beedle, after he stepped on the chicks and ducklings and hissed at George. Steve Scott took him away.

We talked to Mrs. Stewart Bostwick the other day, who used to live on Bostwick Hill, and asked how politicking is going in Frog Hollow. She said she had no comment. "I try to stay out of politics."

She said the frogs in her creek are busy these nights. "You never can see them but I think they are large ones. When I first moved here from the hill I said I thought the frogs would be awful," she added. But now she enjoys them. "When they sing it is just as if they were having a meeting. They all sing. Then, all of a sudden, it is as if someone gave a signal. They all stop on the same note."

MRS. BOSTWICK said she does not know the name of her creek but thinks it is tied in with the golf course. Every time it rains a lot, old golf sticks, golf balls and tennis shoes float past her house on Walnut Street.

We saw Tom Tawns at Stinson Beach the other day, who has a creek running right in back of his door at his building supply store. "It's Eskoot Creek," he said, "named after old Captain Eskoot, originator of the old Stinson home with wood brought around the Horn. We catch steelhead in season," said Tawns, "and a certain amount of sea trout come up the creek."

IN BOLINAS we met a wonderful woman digging around her poppies with a shovel and a huge hoe. She has seen many summers and liked to talk of sit-ins, beatniks and the educational system. Saying not to use her name, she advised that she and her husband are bothered by gophers, having probably trapped more than 100.

They eat nasturtium and vegetable roots, she said. She also said some days she just putters around, but some days she can do the work of 10 men and "everything goes like a song."

Morrie Carlson came down with flu the other day and, as a result, 200 dozen doughnuts from his Do-Nut Kettle did not get made nor delivered nor dunked in Southern Marin.

ART BUCHWALD

It Used To Be That Cigar Smokers Were Awful, Now They Puff In Style

WASHINGTON—It is very rare that a minority can win a battle for freedom overnight. But we've seen it happen right here in the United States. The minority we're talking about are the cigar smokers of America, of which we happen to be a member. Up until recently cigar smokers were treated as lepers. We were insulted by hostesses, pushed around by airline stewardesses, held in contempt by children, and persecuted by our wives.

Even the movies gave cigar smokers a bad image. Only crooked politicians and gangsters smoked cigars in films. But despite the persecution we cigar smokers stuck to our guns, or whatever other people called them. Many times we had to choose between cigars and people and we always chose cigars, because they lasted longer and we could enjoy them more.

IT WAS a lonely life, but we pursued it for the pleasure it gave us. If you're going to have a vice, it might as well be one that society doesn't approve of.

And then it happened. The surgeon-general's report on cigarettes was issued and all of a sudden cigar smokers were in and cigarette smokers were out. Cigar smoking, the S. G. report said, had little effect on cancer and cigar smokers were slated to live much longer than cigarette smokers.

Overnight people who would have nothing to do with us before sought us out and asked, "Would you teach me how to smoke a cigar?"

"Don't inhale, jerk," we would scream in the first lesson. "Just puff."

"But how can you smoke without inhaling?" was the inevitable question.

It was hard work, but we taught many cigarette smokers how to puff a cigar.

Not only were we sought after as a cigar-smoking teacher, but suddenly we were in demand socially. Hostesses would introduce us by saying, "I want you to meet Mr. Buchwald. He smoked cigars before the surgeon-general's report come out."

People were immediately impressed and several asked for our autograph for their children.

Puffing happily on a Corona we tried to act modestly.

"It's really nothing. I had a feeling about cigarettes when I was 10 years old. The kids in the neighborhood used to smoke cigarettes behind the railroad tracks and I noted they started coughing. It occurred to me that there was a correlation between cigarettes and coughing. So at 10 years old I started smoking cigars."

THE BEST part of being a cigar smoker is that women are now smoking cigars and we're constantly being approached by beautiful women at parties who say, "My your cigar smells good. I wonder if I could have one?"

We usually blush and hand them one. Some of them whisper, "I like you."

"But I'm not handsome," we reply.

"I know," they say. "But you're going to live longer."

And so all the years of unhappiness have finally paid off. Thanks to the surgeon-general, cigar smokers can now puff in peace, blowing smoke in the faces of the very people who persecuted them for years.

Stolen Car Found Within 10 Hours

Sheriff's deputies found a car at 3:10 a.m. yesterday, less than 10 hours after it was reported stolen by Mrs. Margaret Galvin of 136 Birch Way, Santa Venetia.

Mrs. Galvin said the car was taken from the upper level of the Marin County Civic Center parking area, where it had been left with the keys in the ignition.

It was found, with keys still in the ignition, in the parking lot of a Marinwood grocery store. No damage was reported to the vehicle.

Cyclist, 11, Hurt In Auto Crash

Roland Balzli, 11, of 274 Cardinal Drive, Tamalpais Valley, was treated at Marin General Hospital for injuries to his left ankle after his bicycle was struck by an automobile at Rosemont and Morning Sun avenues in Tamalpais Valley at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Lyle Gene Martin, 33, of 135 Harvard Avenue, Mill Valley, was driver of the car involved, reported the California Highway Patrol. Martin's car was eastbound on Rosemont when the youngster, southbound on Morning Sun, turned into the car's path, the patrol reported.

Mine Blast Kills 8 Japan Workers

TOKYO (AP)—Eight Japanese workers died of gas poisoning today when a gas explosion trapped them 3,000 yards inside a coal mine they were closing.

The explosion occurred at a colliery in northern Kyushi Island.) The workers were removing equipment.

San Anselmo Man, Son, 13, Injured In Car Collision

A San Anselmo man and his 13-year-old son were painfully injured in a truck-car crash on Highway 101 near the Lucas Valley interchange at 4:10 p.m. Saturday.

Edward Calvin Hunt Jr., 42, and his son, Bill, both of 129 Saunders Avenue, San Anselmo, were held overnight at Novato Hospital. The elder Hunt suffered cuts and bruises on his right leg; his son, a concussion, and cuts and bruises on his left leg.

The California Highway Patrol said Hunt's 1964 Falcon pickup truck was struck by a 1954 Oldsmobile sedan driven by Mrs. Mabel Laura Meisner, 56, of 16 Elmwood Court, Novato. The Meisner car spun against the underpass railing after the crash, but Mrs. Meisner escaped unhurt. Hunt's truck, described as totally demolished, bounced some 50 feet along the railing.

Twin Cities Rec Ponder Director

The Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the Larkspur City Hall to consider hiring a recreation director.

Commission Chairman Albert E. Kogler said a petition was being circulated by the Funsters, a senior citizen group, asking that the commission hire William Gordon, who left the position one year ago to go to Hawaii.

Kogler said Gordon now wants to return to his former job.

The commission will consider his application and interview five candidates, narrowed down from a field of 60 who applied for the job.

Pay Raises Too High, Municipal Judges Say

Marin County's three municipal court judges are unhappy about proposed pay increases for them being considered in the state legislature, according to County Administrator Alan Bruce. The pay raises are too high.

At first, according to the judges, the pay increases proposed were too low, compared to proposed increases for superior court judges, but an amendment has been written into the bill which would bring municipal court judge salaries up to $23,000, a 37 per cent hike.

The municipal court judges now get $16,800 a year. Marin's superior court judges receive $21,000. The proposed increase for superior court judges would bring them to $25,000.

Bruce tomorrow will ask the county board of supervisors to oppose Assembly bill 50, as now amended, because of the increases proposed for the judges. In a separate letter from Judges Harold J. Haley, Leonard A. Thomas and Joseph G. Wilson, a suggestion was made that the state begin to help with municipal court judges' salaries.

The state supplies part of the money for superior court judges, the letter notes. The judges also said the pay formula, which is based on the size of the county in which the judge serves, should be changed for municipal courts, because the number of cases in a municipal judicial district has little relation to the size of a county.

However, the judges said that this year is not the time to consider this question.

The supervisors tomorrow are also expected to approve an equal access arrangement between the county library and the Sausalito library. A similar system now allows Larkspur residents to use the county library free. A free access arrangement is being discussed also with Mill Valley.

A request by the building inspection department for another building inspector has gained the backing of the county administrator and of the citizens' committee on urban development. The committee, in a letter to the board, warned federal certification of the housing program in the county could be cut off.

Also needed, according to committee chairman Betty Pierce, is a person in the planning department concerned solely with zoning violation enforcement.

The board will receive a letter from Harry Lerner and Associates asking for reconsideration of recent action encouraging an initiative to outlaw pay television.

The supervisors will also consider again the question of pay for court reporters, and are expected to receive the engineering report on a proposed bulkhead line for Richardson Bay.

In the afternoon a hearing on the bill to create a Marin County Transit District will be held.

Pattillo Trial Date April 11

James A. (Diamond Jim) Pattillo, San Francisco business executive, will go on trial for grand theft and forgery in San Francisco Superior Court April 11 at 10 a.m.

The trial date was set today. Pattillo faces one count of grand theft and 12 counts of forgery.

Pattillo, who sailed from Sausaliito on his yacht in November, was overhauled by the Coast Guard off Monterey and returned to the mainland to face the charges.

Chiroptera, the name of the order of bats, means "hand winged."

Greenbrae Driver Cited For Hitting Neighbor's House

George Onni Bendon, 68, of 34 Lucky Drive, Greenbrae, was scheduled to appear in Municipal Court this afternoon on a charge of drunken driving on private property.

Bendon was booked at county jail after his car went through the back of his garage and traveled another 62 feet before striking the corner of a neighbor's house on Friday.

Uno Soukka of 30 Lucky Drive said yesterday he was unable to estimate the amount of damage to his house and a wooden deck and walkway, but the California Highway Patrol said the damage was extensive.

The patrol said Bendon's vehicle also went through a fence separating the two properties. Bendon allegedly admitted having consumed three mixed drinks shortly before the accident.

A visitor at the Soukka household, Rauni Toosi, said: "It felt like an earthquake, to us," when the car struck the house.

Car Accident Hurts Boy, 7, On Bicycle

Dale Parker, 7, of Petalulma, was cut over the left eye and bruised on his forehead in a bike-car accident at 5:50 p.m. Saturday at Chase and Peach Streets, Novato, according to Novato police.

Dale was riding a bike belonging to a friend, Boyd Staggs of 1200 Chase Street, Novato, police said. He made a U-turn on Chase Street in front of a northbound car driven by Arline Joyce Halford, 23, of 1124 Third Street, Novato police reported.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, March 31, the 91st day of 1964 with 275 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1880, Wabash, Ind., became the first community to be completely illuminated by electricity.

In 1918, daylight savings time went in effect throughout the United States for the first time.

In 1963, the 114-day New York City newspaper strike ended.

A thought for the day: Roman philosopher Seneca once said: "It is not the man who had too little, but the man who craves more, that is poor."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

'Good' Players Come In Different Grades In Game

When you say that Bill Jones is a good bridge player, what do you really mean? If you're very casual about bridge, you may mean that Bill knows nearly enough to keep score.

If you're very serious about the game, you may mean that Bill plays in tournaments and has won several national championships. The difference may show up in a bridge hand.

Opening lead — ♠ K

In a casual bridge game, West would lead out his three top spades. South would ruff the third spade with the deuce of hearts and would lead the queen of hearts for a finesse.

KEY PLAY

This would be the key play of the hand, for to casual players a finesse is a very advanced play.

The finesse would work, and South would lead another heart to repeat the finesse. Declarer would keep leading trumps until both opponents showed out, for then he would know that trumps were drawn.

He would eventually lose a diamond trick, but he would make the game and rubber.

EXPERT DEFENDER

If Bill is a good player in the very serious sense, he would take the first two tricks with the king and queen of spades, but he would lead a low spade at the third trick. This would force East to ruff with the six of hearts.

If South over-ruffs with the jack of hearts, he must lose a heart trick to West. Since South must also give up a diamond trick, he will lose his contract.

Three cheers for Bill Jones, the expert defender. He found a way to defeat the contract—a way that the casual player would never dream of.

FOUND WAY

No cheers for South, who should have found a way to make his contract in spite of expert defense. If you weren't looking for it, take another glance at the hand.

When East ruffs the third spade, South should discard his losing diamond. This costs nothing, since South is sure to lose that diamond sooner or later.

South thus manages to keep his trump strength intact, and can finesse successfully through West's king of hearts.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade.

You have 11 points in high cards and 2 points for distribution. With a total of 13 points you have an optional opening bid, and in this case you choose to bid because of the good five-card major suit and good high-card structure.

Garibaldi Goes Back To Minors With New Attitude

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Bob Garibaldi, who was given $150,000 by the San Francisco Giants just for agreeing to pitch for them, is on his way back to Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League today with a different attitude.

Garibaldi and three other young hurlers were sent to Casa Grande, Ariz., yesterday for reassignment to Giant farm clubs.

This spared them the ordeal of trying to stop the Chicago Cubs, who scored seven times in the ninth inning for an 11-7 victory over San Francisco.

When Garibaldi was sent down in 1963, he stomped off in a rage.

"I think the team was picked before we came down here," he charged then, contending he wasn't given a proper shot in the spring at making the parent club.

This time it was different.

"I learned an awful lot in the Coast League last year," said Garibaldi, who compiled a 12-13 record with Tacoma in 1963 while performing as the iron man of the staff.

"And I know there's still an awful lot more I have to learn. I want to pitch, so I'm kind of looking forward to getting back up there and working in regular rotation," Garibaldi added.

Also sent down was Al Stanek, 20, another bonus baby who sat on the San Francisco bench last season because the Giants had to keep him on the roster.

Bob Bishop, 20, a pitcher of promise, and Paul Doyle, 24, who had a winning Texas League record, also go to the minors.

Young Frank Linzy took the loss and the battering by the Cubs along with veteran Don Larsen. Before that, Bob Shaw pitched seven good innings, giving manager Alvin Dark hope that the big winter trade will work.

Before the Cubs commenced clobbering, Giants Jesus Alou, with three hits, and Willie McCovey, with two-for-two, had impressed the Easter crowd of 5,807.

But the Cubs, with Lou Brock and Leo Burke each getting three hits each, outhit the Giants 11-7 and beat San Francisco for the fifth time in six tries. This includes games against the strong Giant B team.

But the Giants are still kings of the Cactus League with a 15-4 record, and will still have the best spring record of any major league squad no matter what happened against Cleveland today in Phoenix.

NO PICK-OFF HERE—San Francisco Giant Harvey Kuenn slides safely back to first base on a pick-off attempt yesterday by Chicago Cubs pitcher Glen Hobbie to Cubs first sacker Ernie Banks in the eighth inning of the exhibition game in Phoenix, Ariz. The Cubs beat the Giants, 11-7. (AP Wirephoto)

13-2 Mark By Marin Vaulter

Led by a 13-foot, 2-inch pole vault by Bill Dimpfl, Redwood High School's track and field team made a fine showing at the Palo Alto Easter Relays Saturday at Cubberly High School.

No team scoring was kept in the meet, which drew 41 schools.

Field events were scored on a team-of-three basis. Redwood placed second in the pole vault with Dimpfl's 13-2 vault and marks of 12-6 by Collie Janda and 10-6 by Warren Curd for a total footage of 36-2. Dimpfl's mark, one of the best in Northern California, was good for individual third place, and, needless to say, was a school record for the Giants. It also was the highest ever recorded by a Marin County athlete. The Marin Athletic League record, 11-6, was set by Dimpfl last year.

The Redwood high jump team of Tom Strathairn, Dave Auerbach and Janda took a third place after all three boys jumped 5-10. Strathairn, the Marin Athletic League's top hurdler, ran the 120 highs in 15-1 to take fourth place.

Redwood's sprint relay team of Guy Modica, John Murk, Auerbach and Strathairn took fourth place in the 880 relay (1:32.4) and fifth in the 440 relay (44.4). The speediest member of the relay team, Bob Piro, a 9.9 century runner, sat out the meet with a pulled muscle.

New Development In Ring Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators ask more questions today about reports underworld figures hung around while Sonny Liston trained for his heavy-weight championship fight with Cassius Clay.

They also want to know why Liston gave away stock, which brought $100,000 in profits from the Clay fight, to a man identified as a former associate of mobster Frank "Blinky" Palermo.

These questions came up as the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee sought to wind up its hearings into circumstances surrounding the Feb. 25 fight won by Clay when Liston failed to come out for the seventh round.

In the new development, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., asked the Senate investigators to find out whether associates of Frankie Carbo had been in Clay's and Liston's Florida training camps. Carbo, now in prison, is former underworld czar of boxing.

The subcommittee met three days last week and only heard three of seven scheduled witnesses. Still remaining to be heard are:

Bob Nilon, brother of Liston's financial adviser, Jack, who was executive vice president of Inter-Continental Promotions Inc. a firm organized to promote Liston's championship fights.

Sam Margolis, Philadelphia vending machine operator identified by the subcommittee as once owning an apartment house with Palermo.

Witnesses last week testified that Liston signed over, apparently getting nothing in return, 275 of his 500 share, 50 per cent stock control in Inter-Continental Promotions Inc. a firm organized to promote Liston's championship fights.

Margolis has said he got the stock for helping Liston set up the deal to get a share of the fight's promotional profits, something fighters normally don't get.

Salvatore Avena, Philadelphia attorney who figured in organizing Inter-Continental and who later got 50 of the 275 shares of stock transferred to Margolis.

Cepeda's World Never Brighter;; Will This Be His Best Season?

Jack Hanley

PHOENIX—The world of Orlando Cepeda never was brighter. The Bull of the Caribbees never was happier. There are several reasons why Cepeda's sunshine smile is busting out all over.

First and foremost is the $53,000 contract Horace Stoneham personally wrote for Cepeda when the president of the Giants visited the Caribbean during the winter.

Second, Stoneham on three different occasions, twice in newspaper interviews and once on television, declared during his stay in Puerto Rico that Cepeda was not expendable, that the Giants never at any time entertained any thoughts of trading him regardless of speculative stories to the contrary.

Third, Cookie Lavagetto has been assigned to Cepeda and the entire Caribbean Cowboy contingent as a good will ambassador. It's true that Cookie's primary coaching responsibilities deal with base running. But Cookie's duties go beyond that. He hasn't any official portfolio in his ambassador's job but he packs plenty of authority in his liaison work.

To Cepeda, $53,000 is basic encugh reason for his happiness. The Cha-Cha Kid is quite a realist whenever and wherever money is involved. However, before Stoneham's winter visit to the Caribbean, Cepeda honestly believed that the president of the ball club was behind the annual trade talk relating to the Giant first baseman. Stoneham convinced him and incidentally, Cepeda's countrymen such was not the case.

IT WAS the first time that the president of the ball club personally negotiated with Cepeda. Heretofore, Willie Mays was the only Giant accorded that honor. Cepeda was elated over the deferential treatment accorded him in his homeland where he is a great sports hero. He was so elated that there wasn't a moment's quibbling over the new contract which represents a $6,000 increase over his $47,000 salary last season.

EVER SINCE 1958 when he won National League Rookie of the Year honors, Cepeda always was late reporting for spring practice because of contract arguments. This was the first year he signed his contract well in advance of the opening of spring camp. He reported for duty when camp opened, Feb. 24.

It was noticeable from the first day that Cepeda's swing was smoother. Did he really eliminate during the winter a bad batting habit, that of a loop at the top of his swing? Maybe it would reappear when Cepeda began trying for home runs.

"I am not trying for home runs this year," said Cepeda. "I am trying just to meet the ball with a heavier (39 ounce) bat. If I do that the home runs will come naturally."

Alvin Dark, of course, is delighted with the way Cepeda has been hitting this spring—predominantly singles, doubles and triples with a few homers.

Seals Try To Increase Playoff Lead

The San Francisco Seals try to fatten their 2-1 edge over Portland in the Western Hockey League semi-finals when the two clubs clash again tonight at the Cow Palace, 8:30 o'clock.

The WHL defending champions grabbed the lead in the best-of-seven playoffs Saturday by nipping the Buckaroos 3-2.

Gerry Brisson proved the winning margin with two close-in goals in the second and third periods after Len Haley opened Seal scoring in the first.

Portland's Tommy McVie stunned the 7,832 Cow Palace fans with a no nonsense goal in the first nine seconds, but the Buckaroos could manage only one more, that by Cliff Schmautz in the third stanza.

McVie's quick score set a league playoff record and was only one second slower than the all-time mark set in 1949.

The win evened the two clubs' season series at 8-8 with one tie.

Stanford Loses A Double Header

SANTA BARBARA (AP)—Stanford University's pitcher Terry Docken wonders what it takes to win a ball game. His team already had lost the first end of a doubleheader Saturday to the University of California at Santa Barbara, 8-3, after he'd struck out nine in six innings.

But winning UCSB pitcher Mike Foster allowed only three hits and his teammates got three unearned runs to take the second game 4-0.

VACATION OVER

It's Back To Work For Marin Athletes

Marin college and high school athletes will shed skis and surfboards today to resume sports action after the East vacation.

Highlighting the return to competition will be two Marin Athletic League swim contests tomorrow. Redwood will be at Tamalpais, and powerhouse San Rafael travels to Terra Linda in these two meets.

Other prep action will include a dozen practice baseball games during the week and also will see the resumption of MAL action in track and field on Friday when league favorite Redwood takes on Marin Catholic on the Wildcat track; Novato spikemen go to San Rafael for another meet; and Terra Linda ventures in to Indian territory as the Trojan team meets the Tamalpais track and field team in Mill Valley.

College of Marin baseballers will be busy with practice games on Wednesday and Friday and a Golden Valley Conference doubleheader Saturday at San Rafael's Albert Field.

Marin Duo Beaten In Bay Tourney

Bob Hill of Mill Valley and Howard Morehouse of San Rafael fell to Jack Darrah of Moraga and Larry Axtell of San Francisco in the doubles yesterday in the 67th Bay Counties Tennis Championships at the Rafael Racquet Club in San Rafael.

The Marin pair fell in their match, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3. It was one of the top matches of the tourney's second day of action, with Darrah returning the serves with amazing accuracy.

In the men's singles, Ken Lang of Richmond made quick work of seventh-seeded Erwin Douglas of Santa Rosa, winning the match, 6-1 and 6-2.

Douglas' daughter, Cathy, second-seeded in the women's singles, also lost her match when she was upset by Leslie Abrahams, 6-3, 6-4 Leslie's fine volleys and smashes proved too much for Cathy to handle.

Axtell, the number one seeded entry in the singles, defeated Hill in Saturday's top match, 6-3 and 6-4.

Marin Soccer Loss

A crippled Real Marin soccer team, playing with only 9 players instead of the regulation 11, lost to the Assyrians yesterday, 9-4, in San Francisco Soccer League action.

Ken Frost Collects Two Medals In NCAA

Ken Frost, former swim star at Redwood High School, won his second medal of the 1964 NCAA swimming and diving championships Saturday when he placed fifth in the 100-yard breaststroke at the meet held at New Haven, Conn.

Frost, a member of the second-place Indiana University team, swam the distance in 1:01.6. He had tied for a fourth-place medal the previous day when he swam the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:14.7.

Winner of the 100-yard breaststroke event Saturday was University of Southern California's William Craig who splashed to a 59.9 clocking.

Southern California's team upset the heavily-favored team from Indiana, 96-91. USC picked up three gold medals on the final day of the meet Saturday to score the come-from-behind upset in the 41st annual NCAA championships. Yale was third with 87 points.

Other Marin County boys competing in the meet didn't win any medals. Jay Rodrigo of University of California, a former Redwood High School athlete, didn't place in either the one-meter or three-meter diving events, and Jeff McCreary of Mill Valley, former student at Tamalpais High, didn't place while swimming for the Cal 400-yard medley relay team.

Drake Loses In Practice

Drake High School lost a practice baseball game to Lincoln of San Francisco Saturday, 3-1, at Drake. The two schools made up a game that was postponed because of wet grounds Thursday.

Shortstop Terry Tadlock got the only two hits for Drake, one of them a home run in the third inning. Drake coach Bob Fitzhenry credited sophomore Charles Locati with a fine pitching job.

Saturday's line score:

Oregon, USC, San Jose State Rule Coast Track And Field

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oregon rules Northwest track and field; Southern California is king of its area and San Jose State's empire is Northern California so far at the start of an Olympic year season.

The mighty USC Trojans crushed Occidental, 111-34, Saturday, as three meet records toppled.

Oregon won the sixth Far West Relays in Seattle for the sixth time, scoring 61½ points, to 56½ for Oregon State, 54 for Washington State, 36½ for Washington and 10½ for Idaho.

San Jose State, winner of the last two dual meets against Stanford by the slimmest of margins, this time crushed the Indians, 85-60, with the Spartons Les Bond winning three events.

SIEBERT SURPRISES

Jerry Siebert, once the nation's top half-miler, made a surprise appearance at an informal meet at Berkeley, and won his first 880 since he retired two years ago. The time was 1:50.2. Trackmen from California, Sacramento State, Nevada and the Santa Clara Youth Village competed.

Meanwhile, former Oregon runner Jim Grelle was turning in the fastest outdoor mile of the year in the San Diego Relays—a 4:01,3 clocking.

Oregon took the Seattle relay meet over tough Oregon State because Gerry Moro and Martin Frank took first and second in the pole vault. Moro's 15, 14¼ was a meet record.

Occidental pole vaulter Mike Johnson went 15-10, six inches better than the previous record. USC5s Roy Williams captured the triple jump with 48-5¾, surpassing the year-old meet mark of 45-¾.

There were two Trojan double winners. Sprinter Dave Morris took the 100 and 220 in 9.8 and 21.7. Less Mills won the discus throw with 173-11 and the shot put with 56-9¼.

Bond of San Jose took the triple jump with 50-1½, the broadjump with 23-6 and the 120 high hurdles in 15.1.

Teammate Ben Tucker turned in a distance double against Stanford, running the mile in 4:05.2 and the two-mile in 8:57.2. Spartan sprinter Wayne Hermen took the 100 in 9.8 and the 220 in 21.4 besides running legs on two winning relay teams.

Napa Quint 3rd In ABC

OAKLAND (AP)—The Belaire Merchants team from Napa broke the Easter week scoring drought at the American Bowling Congress tournament last night with a 3013 series for third place in the regular division title race.

Only a rash of splits in the final two frames kept the Belaire Club from grabbing the team lead from the all-coast Vancouver Club of Seattle, pace-setter since March 1 with a 3055 outing.

The 3013 series, on games of 998-1018-997, was the first regular division score over 3000 since the Dunes Heating Club of Gary, Ind. made a run for the lead on a 3053 total on March 10.

Anchor man Bob Trosin was the star of the Belaire Merchants with a 650 series. He had games of 199-227-224. Other 600 shooters included Douglas Hartlip, 629, and Bill Trosin, Bob's brother, with a 607. Lloyd Cox added 575 and Harold Brooking 552.

The Belaire Merchants had never bowled together as a team before their ABC appearance. The players were sitting around a bar and decided to enter together. They had bowled against each other in leagues.

In yesterday's early ABC play, a 22-year-old college student, working his way through school as a rock and roll singer, was the standout performer. Lloyd Brent, a senior at Long Beach State College had a 662 series in regular singles.

Angels May Move Near Disneyland

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels are mulling over what they call an attractive offer to move their American League franchise to Anaheim.

Anaheim, home of Disneyland, has offered a 50,000-seat, 20-million-dollar stadium to be financed through a non-profit corporation, says City Manager Keith Murdoch.

Fred Haney, general manager of the Angels, said his club had received several offers and that the Anaheim offer was very attractive.

"If they come through with everything they say they will," Haney said, "we will certainly give it further consideration." everything they say they will,"

The Angels have two years to go on their lease at Dodger Stadium in Los Angeles. They would have to give the Dodger management a year's notice to relinguish tenancy, an Angel spokesman said.

Hawks, L.A. In Crucial Tilt Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After tonight there'll be no tomorrow, until next year, for either the Los Angeles Lakers or the St. Louis Hawks, who battle in St. Louis in the National Basketball Assn's. Western Division semifinals.

The winner of tonight's game will meet the San Francisco Warriors Wednesday for a seven-game campaign for the championship. The loser will be out until next year.

The game tonight is the fifth battle between the Lakers and Hawks in the semi-final round.

The Lakers, after losing the first two in St. Louis, barely stayed alive last Wednesday on Elgin Baylor's 22-foot jumper in the closing seconds in Los Angeles.

Lakers team members played a spectacular second half Saturday night in Los Angeles to score a 97-88 victory and square the best-of-five series.

Jerry West, scoring a 33-point average for the four games, had 39 Saturday at the Sports Arena, and Baylor, held to two in the first half by Cliff Hagan, tossed in 18 after intermission.

San Jose Frosh Wins Collegiate Golf Championship

SANTA CRUZ, (AP)—A steady-shooting San Jose State freshman wears the crown of top collegiate golfer in the West. As the early leaders blew sky-high, Spartan ace Ross Randall put together consecutive rounds of 72 — one over par — which made up a 10-stroke deficit Saturday on the last 36 holes of the 18th annual Far Western Inter-collegiate Golf Tournament.

Oregon's Bud Ward, who paced the 30-man field after 36 holes, soared out of contention Saturday with rounds of 78 and 84.

First-day leader Jim Gilbert, who shot a sparkling 4-under-par 67 Thursday, ended with rounds of 75 and 82 for a 297 total.

Rick Rhoads of Southern California fired rounds of 72 and 75 in the 36-hole finale and took second place with a 294 total. Third was William Tindall of Washington, one stroke back at 295 after Saturday back at 295 after Saturday rounds of 75 and 71.

EXHIBITION HIGHLIGHTS

Mantle, Koufax In Form

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Report No. 2 is in on Mickey Mantle, whose fate apparently hinges on tape.

Last Thursday Mantle's case history had an expenditure for tape—to bandage his legs. Yesterday, Mantle's case history had an expenditure for tape—to measure his homers.

Mantle, the New York Yankees' $100,000-a-year slugger with the dime store legs, raised his batting average to .318 yesterday by lifting two long drives over the fence at Tampa, Fla., in a 6-4 exhibition baseball victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The homers were the first of the spring training grind for Mantle, who had been forced into a four-day layoff by his ailing legs. He had complained about his left knee—operated on during the winter for torn cartilage.

"I was running real good when I came down here, but I haven't been running good the last couple of days," Mantle said when he issued Report No. 1 Thursday.

He concentrated on trotting against the Reds. Both homers were hit with Mantle batting right-handed against southpaw Joe Nuxhall, the first with a man on in the first inning traveling 350 feet and the second in the fifth with the bases empty rocketing 430 feet.

NO LAMENESS

Report No. 2, however, still left doubts about the condition of Mantle's taped legs. In the field, he ran without any indication of lameness, but he let one hit fall in front of him instead of charging it in the Mantle manner.

While the American League champion Yankees were getting a boost from their No. 1 product, Sandy Koufax of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers turned in his sharpest pitching performance in a 3-1 loss to Minnesota.

Koufax became the first pitcher to go all the way this spring as he limited the Twins to five hits. Jimmie Hall ruined Koufax' effort with a two-run homer in the fourth and the Twins added an unearned run in the fifth.

Joining Hall as the day's hitting stars were Detroit rookie Willie Horton, Julio Gotay of Pittsburgh, Tim Harkness of the New York Mets and Tony Conigliaro, a rookie with the Boston Red Sox who may be compiling one of the oddest hitting records ever produced.

PINCH HOMER

Horton connected for a pinch-hit homer in the ninth inning of the Tigers' 2-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox in the opener of a double-header, then homered in the third inning of Detroit's 3-0 nightcap victory. Norton now has five homers.

Gotay collected two homers and two singles for five runs batted in as the Pirates walloped Philadelphia 13-4 while Harkness broke a hitless string that had extended to 16 at-bats by slamming a homer, double and single in the Mets' 8-3 belting of Washington.

Conigliaro led the Red Sox to a 6-4, 13-inning victory over the Los Angeles Angels with a homer, two triples and a double. The 19-year-old outfielder now has collected 15 hits—13 for extra bases. His batting average is .288; his slugging average .750.

In other games, St. Louis edged Milwaukee 6-5 in 11 innings, Kansas City defeated Houston 2-1, the Chicago Cubs outslugged San Francisco 11-7, Baltimore nipped the Colts' B team 2-1 and Cleveland downed the Angeles' B squad 7-6.

AZALEA GOLF LEADER

Besselink Near End Of Long Victory Drought

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — It's been almost seven years since Al Besselink won a regular PGA circuit golf tournament. Not since the 1957 Kansas City Open has the big blond from Merchantville, N.J., won on the tour.

But he was 18 holes away from victory today as the final round of the $20,000 Azalea Open started. Besselink's par 72 yesterday after earlier rounds of 70-65 gave him a 207 total, nine under par, and a two-shot edge over Joe Campbell, the first round leader.

Campbell, first day leader with 67, had slumped to 73 in the next round, but charged back with 69 for second place.

The 69 was the day's low score, tied by Dutch Harrison, celebrating his 54th birthday, and Rod Funseth.

Sharing third place at 210 were Tommy Jacobs, Lionel Hebert and Larry Mowry.

Bob Gajda, who held second place in each of the first two rounds with a pair of 68s, slumped to 75 for a four-way sixth place tie at 211. A triple bogey seven on the 17th, where he hit a ball out of bounds, cost him second place.

Bruins Top Cal In Doubleheader

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA's baseball team, which swept a double header from California Saturday 4-3 and 2-0, now has won five straight.

The Bruins lost three conference games in a row before starting their win streak. They are in contention again for the pennant in the California Intercollegiate Baseball Assn.

The Bears' record is 2-6.

It seems to me . . .

by Lou Concilio

Ah, How Sweet is the Scent of Victory!

During the past couple of weeks, I got a pretty good idea of the mental turmoil "our Giants" must have endured a couple of seasons ago in their see-saw race to the pennant race wire with the hated Dodgers. We, at Ames Ford, pestered the already harassed men at the District Office for a tally count on our sales figures against the entire line-up of "city slicker" opposition—and we did this pestering about five minutes after the contest deadline.

Well, we argued and cajoled. And we got a rough shock. Hit me right here, it did. That Sacramento dealer had sandbagged so many deals, he wound up with an impossible lead of some twenty-odd sales. Darn slicker had out-snookered us again—just as he did two years ago when I found myself stuck with a custom-made Roman toga and sandals. The taunts and the boasts of our San Francisco opposition had diverted us from the true menace who would smash our visions of Paris in the Spring, with side trips and trimmings.

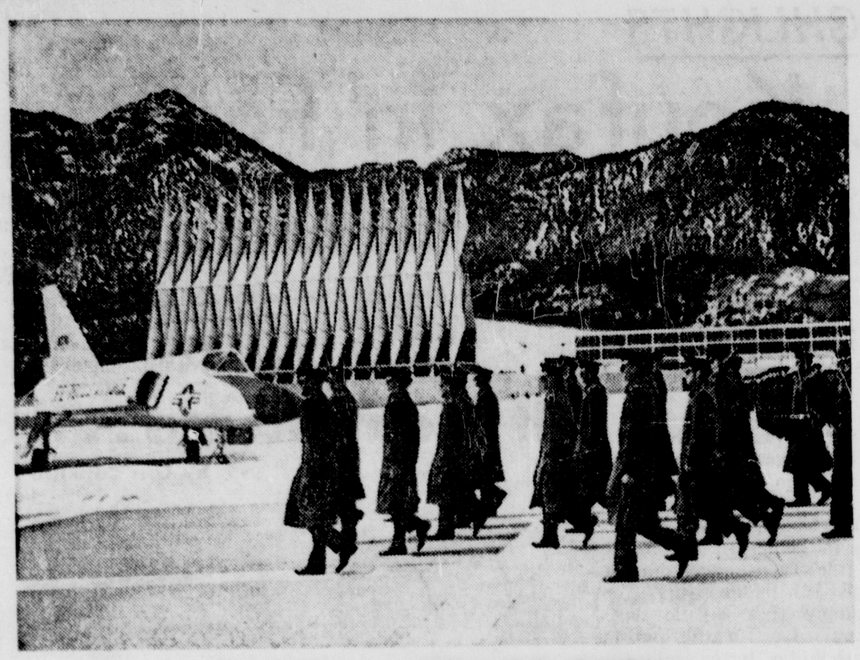

And, so our dobbers were understandably down at Ames Ford. Mine especially. Naturally. But, I must say I drew a great deal of comfort from the genuine expressions of regret the men—and women made to me. Our sales records for the months of January and February had actually exceeded any similar period in our entire ten years of business so no one, least of all myself, could fault the herculean efforts of virtually every man on our sales staff. One or two did fault the seeming disproportionate handicap some zealous factory statistician had assigned us—a handicap of 292 new Ford cars and trucks to be sold in only 40 calendar days, minus Sundays (you may remember Ames Ford was the leader in promoting the voluntary agreement for Sunday closing among Marin County automobile dealers).

As events proved however, our men were more equal to the task and managed to sell the almost unbelievable total of 339 new Ford cars and trucks during this short period. I guess they figured if Seabiscuit could carry all that extra weight and come charging up to the finish line well ahead of the lighter-burdened pack, they were no less thoroughbred. The clincher came when closer inspection revealed quite a few holes in the bags of the master sand-baggers, and Ames Ford was all alone well in front. There's a moral there somewhere, I think.

Lest you good people of Marin get the wrong impression, let me hasten to assure you our men, even through their extended efforts, could not possibly have attained this victory unless you had not responded with such gratifying enthusiasm. We had not an insignificant problem, too, in clarifying the thinly veiled implication we were the "Big Bad Wolf Pack" in direct contention against hopelessly over-matched local opposition.

We were rather pitted against dealers of equal size and sales potential in San Francisco, Sacramento and the San Mateo peninsula. Our victory is all the sweeter in the knowledge the completely locally owned and directed policies of Doug Cowan and humbly mine, have resulted in ever-increasing sales achievements.

So thank you, our loyal Marin neighbors, for winning that marvelous European trip for Myrl and me (Marilyn's going too) and the Mexican excursion for Zim and his Mrs. Doug Cowan is grousing about his two "world travelers," but he's not fooling me for a moment. He's proud and happy with our achievement, too.

THEFT BARES AN EARLIER WITHDRAWAL

Burglars at the home of Frank McCauley in Mill Valley Saturday night not only got $19.50 from two piggy banks and a coin collection, a $1 I.O.U.

McCauley reported to police at 11:50 p.m. that someone had entered his home at 149 Shelley Drive, stolen two banks from a bedrooms, and a $1.50 coin collection. Besides that, McCauley told officers, the thief also got a $1 I.O.U. which he had placed in one of his youngsters' banks on borrowing a dollar.

Entry was reported to have been made through an unulocked sliding glass door.

Police Get Many Reports On Thievery

San Rafael police reported a smattering of thefts over the weekend, including theft of a sign from the San Quentin dump on Francisco Boulevard.

C. D. Madsen, Inc., of 1912 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, reported the plywood identification sign at the dump, valued at $60, missing at 7:45 p.m. Saturday.

Police said Purcell reported varying amounts of cash missing from $240 to $500.

Ray Lynn Maynard of 12 Laurel Place reported that two fishing rods and two reels, valued at $30, were taken from an unlocked storage locker at his carport some time between 10 p.m. Friday and 7 p.m. Saturday.

Bill Joe Shumate, 20, of 873 Fourth Street, reported that a wedding ring set, no value given, was taken from his room sometime between 8:30 p.m. Friday and 1 a.m. Saturday. There was no sign of forced entry, police said.

Victor E. Riella reported three trucks at the R.E.A. Express, 35 Jordan Street, were tampered with Saturday night. Two truck doors were jimmied open and gasoline siphoned from the gasoline tanks, and the windshield of the third truck broken.

1,000 Attend Easter Services In Marin

About 1,000 Marin residents attended organized Easter sunrise services in four different locations yesterday as countless others got up before dawn to commemorate Easter in family groups or as individuals.

The largest group of Easter worshippers, about 500, gathered at Cushing Memorial Theater on Mount Tamalpais in weather described as "perfect."

There were no traffic problems, reported Lt. John A. Langston, information officer at the 666th Radar Station, which sponsored the event with Mill Valley citizens.

The Marin County Council of Churches sponsored three sunrise services—atop San Rafael Hill, at the First Missionary Baptist Church in Marin City, and in Terra Linda on a hill at the west end of Freitas Parkway.

A crowd of 100 climbed San Rafael Hill in heavy fog and heard the Rev. Victor John Bachman of San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

About 200 worshippers massed on the hill at Terra Linda. Speaker was the Rev. Dale Nystrom of the Marinwood-Lucas Valley Community Baptist Church.

Rev. J. P. Henry of First Missionary Baptist Church in Marin City said the church there drew 175 to 200 persons for the sunrise service.

Fontez Discloses $42,800 Windfall In Budget Talks

Discussions of the Marin County budget opened today between department heads and County Administrator Alan Bruce and County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

The first day brought good news in the form of a $42,800 windfall. Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley Fontez, discussing his budget, said the county will realize $42,800 more than expected from investments of county funds by the treasurer's office.

The budget for this year predicted interest payments to the county at $239,200, but the revised estimate is $283,000.

In the 1962-63 fiscal year, interest payments to the county totaled $143,215, but Fontez said his changed methods of investing county funds "have squeezed all the water possible out of the system." He said similar increases each year could not be realistically expected.

Fontez agreed to elimination of $7,500 from his proposed budget for an accounting machine.

Bruce and Mitchell agreed to back Fontez' request for an additional junior accountant in the treasurer's office, the first requested in six years.

Earlier in the day, Public Defender Peter Allen Smith submitted a budget substantially the same as the $23,500 he has for this year. The major increase was from $3,600 to $4,800 for services performed by his office staff and paid for separately from his salary as public defender.

Smith asked that the function of public guardian, which has a total budget of $660, be transferred to another department.

Tape Player Stolen

Mrs. Hazel Thole of 2036 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, told sheriff's deputies someone stole a tape player valued at $265, from her car parked in her carport, shortly after midnight Saturday.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Hunts For Eggs Attract 2,000 Marin Children

Not even a tidal surge could stop the traditional Easter egg hunts in Marin Saturday as more than 2,000 children searched for and found more than double that number of eggs.

The largest was the Novato Fire Department's hunt at the Patterson Ranch, Seventh Street and Grant Avenue, where between 1,500 and 2,000 scoured the fields.

The most unusual hunt was at the Loch Lomond Yacht Club, where youngsters carried on with their search just hours after a tidal surge caused widespread damage to the marina and boats.

At Victor Jones Park in San Rafael, 182 youngsters participated in the Glenwood Homeowners Assn. Easter egg hunt, using specially decorated bags supplied by the Brownies.

Danny Hanson, Dana Schlinger, Joann Sullivan and Scott Boytano won special prizes for finding silver-colored eggs.

The hunt at the Tiburon Peninsula Club attracted more than 200 children, with special prizes going to those who found candied eggs. John Gray, co-chairman of the hunt, said more than 1,000 eggs were found.

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavellero said 2,400 colored eggs were hidden at the Patterson ranch, and when the hunt was over, none was left.

Reynard Book Hits De Gaulle Policies

PARIS (AP) — Paul Reynard, former premier of France, says President Charles de Gaulle "refuses to build a united Europe at a time when everywhere in the world we are witnessing big concentrations in the economic and political fields."

In a new book titled "The Foreign Policy of Gaullism," Reynaud said de Gaulle had suggested a federation of Europe when he was out of office but now wants nothing but "simple cooperation."

Tam Valley Woman Treated for Pills

Freida Griffith, 36, of 306 Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was taken to Marin General Hospital yesterday afternoon for treatment of an apparant overdose of sleeping pills, Marin County sheriff's office reported.

Her condition was described as fair today. The victim, found unconscious in a bedroom of her home by relatives about 1:45 p.m., had been despondent for several days, deputies said.

4 Fingers Lost As Horse Rears

William E. Dreusike of 281 Blackstone Drive was loading his 7-year-old horse, Rusty, into the horse trailer when it reared about 1 p.m. According to Deputy Sheriff Ted Hughes, the lead rope was wrapped around a steel post and around Dreusike's hand. The horse's lunge tightened the rope, cutting off all four fingers.

Dreusike was taken to Novato Hospital by California Ambulance. His condition was reported a fair today.

Mrs. Dreusike said he is a sponsor of the Terra-Marin Horsemen's Assn. and had attended the Easter sunrise service at the Bugeia Lane arena of the Novato Horsemen's Assn. He was loading his horse to leave when the accident happened.

Continually Improving, Engle Writes Backers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) reported to constituents today he has "been getting better ever since" his brain operation last August.

In a statement mailed from his office, Engle indicated he expects to return soon to California to seek renomination.

Engle's statement said:

"As you have heard, I fell ill last summer, was operated on, and I have been getting better ever since. Many of you were thoughtful enough to contact me during my illness. I want to thank you at this time for your letters and cards of sympathy, good wishes and support, and especially for those wonderful flowers and baskets of fruit.

"It's nice to know I have so many warm friends up and down the state. When I get back home to California soon, I hope to be able to see many of you to thank you in person."

Tiburon City Filing Now Totals Five

Two more persons have filed for the Tiburon City Council, bringing the total official candidacy for the five posts to five.

Kelly J. Wheeler, 36, of 6 Felipe Court, Tiburon, filed late Friday, and Gordon W. Russell, 11 Reed Ranch Road, Tiburon, filed shortly before noon today.

Some 10 other nominating papers have been taken out, but no other filings were reported at noon today by Marin County clerk's office.

Wheeler, division sales administrator for California Packing Corp., in San Francisco, was reared in Marin County and is a graduate of University of San Francisco. He is a commissioner of the Tiburon Fire District and has been active in work for incorporation of Tiburon, also an issue on the ballot. He is married and has three children.

Russell is a retired executive with the Stainless Steel Co. of Baltimore, and is president of Reedlands Property Owners Assn. He was on the budget sub-committee of the Tiburon Incorporation Committee. He is married and has one grown son.

Filing deadline for the June 2 primary election is noon on April 7.

WHITE HOUSE EGG HUNT SNOWED OUT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The annual White House Easter egg roll was snowed out today.

At 8:25 a.m., the White House issued the following statement:

"Tours of the White House, however, will be permitted from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m."

Two inches of snow had fallen in the nation's capital by 7 a.m. with a forecast of up to five inches.

Golf Cart Breaks Neck Of Man, 70

San Rafael police reported an electric golf cart driven by Mark Lazarus of San Francisco struck the side of a hill between the third green and the fourth tee, veered to the left downhill, and rolled on top of his father and his two children, Michael, 9, and Elly, 7.

The children were treated for facial scrapes and sent home. Lazarus reportedly had been visiting his son for the past two weeks and was scheduled to go home Thursday.

Committee Meets On Transit Bill

A six-man committee representing the cities of Marin met this afternoon to map a list of objections to the Marin Rapid Transit Bill, which has passed the State Assembly and is in the hands of the Senate Rules Committee.

Larkspur City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper, chairman of the six-man committee from the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen, said the group will present its objections to the County Board of Supervisors tomorrow.

Ground Cut For UC Space Laboratory

BERKELEY (AP) — Ground was broken today for a 2-million-dollar space science laboratory at University of California.

The four-story building, financed by a grant from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will house space science activities presently scattered on and off the Berkeley campus.

Gen. M'Arthur Rallies After More Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, fighting for his life, developed a kidney condition of "grave concern" during the night but was reported rallying today. Army Surgeon Gen. Leonard D. Heaton said he showed a slight improvement.

The surgeon general, one of the chief surgeons in all three of MacArthur's major operations — the latest Sunday — said that some improvement had been made even since a medical bulletin was issued by the hospital at approximately 9:45 a.m. today.

STILL CRITICAL

But Heaton indicated that MacArthur's condition still was considered critical.

Heaton told a newsman that bleeding from the esophagus, which occurred during the night, was being "a little more effectively controlled" by 10:30 a.m.

He added that there had also been "a very modest return of urine output" during at least the last hour or so.

KIDNEY ACTION

The official bulletin at 9:45 a.m. had reported a decrease in kidney action and said steps were being taken to control it.

The doctors also reported that the general had "unfortunately" developed a recurrence of intermitent bleeding from his esophagus, the condition that prompted his second operation more than a week ago.

MacArthur is attempting to weather the impact of his third major operation in 24 days. He has been receiving bedside aid of an arsenal of life-supporting equipment.

The Quiet Revolution — What's It All About?

A Report On Women In Today's World— Potential, Opportunity And New Roles

By BARBARA HOSMER

"We need all the brainpower and skill available in today's rapidly changing world and 50 per cent belongs to women . . .

"With an increased lifespan of 70 years and better health than ever, women have an obligation to contribute all they can to our society . . .

"They should make a real commitment to a career early, just as boys do, and be urged to realize their full potential through serious pursuit of a continuing education.

"And when they marry and their children need them at home, they should be able to continue studies or career on a part-time basis so that when the family needs them less they can return to the world of work for a productive 20 to 30 years.

"Women in America today do not really have a voice in the decision-making of our society . . . They do not make the necessary commitments."

—THESE ARE THE tenets of what is being called "The Quiet Revolution" — the urging of American women to move out into the world of work and make a solid contribution of their ideas and skills.

Its leadership includes educators, economists, sociologists and government officials, with the keynote sounded by psychologist and housewife Betty Friedan, who culminated five years of research with "The Feminine Mystique," a book now in paperback which provides animated conversation from kaffee klatsch to cocktail bash and has caused more than one Marinite to reexamine her own life.

MARIN IS AN especially fertile ground for the "revolutionary" ideas, as it has a preponderance of well-educated, energetic housewives in the vulnerable 25 to 45 age group, and sociologists consider the "comfortable concentration camp" suburban life among the most boxed-in for the lady of the house.

As spokesman for what she terms the "Unfinished Revolution," Mrs. Friedan spelled out the problems of the current situation at the conference on Professional Opportunities for Women held by U. C. Extension and the AAUW in San Francisco two weeks ago:

"YES, WOMEN have their comfortable concentration camp but are not equal . . . Today American women are not really a part of the human story . . . they do not really have a voice in the decision-making of our society," she states.

"The glorification of housework today doesn't make it any more than housework . . . we have to get off the tightrope American women are still on—we need to complete the revolution that was fought early in the century and then left undone when women won the vote and other 'equal rights.' Yet today women are not using those rights," she said.

WHY DOES the revolution have to be finished? Mrs. Friedan says, "The Negro won his rights 100 years ago and presses for dull recognition now. Women also have further to go. And there is an urgency."

Are exterior forces and barriers holding them back? Mrs. Friedan thinks not.

"It does take courage to move into a complex, competitive world, and the longer you stay out of it, the longer you stay safe and passive — the harder it is to get out.

"BUT WOMEN must move out into the world — they are moving, but not fast enough — and there is an urgency," she says.

Figures on working women don't tell the complete story — they are mostly women beyond child-bearing age going into unskilled work areas and this is the level that is rapidly being replaced by machines, she says. Pointing out that, instead, brainpower is needed increasingly at higher levels, she says that there is a growing bulk of unemployable people in America who are unskilled and uneducated.

"THE HOUSEWORK of industry is being done by machines, and uneducated and untrained women moving into the unemployable labor force would only complicate the problem of automation. It is rather the trained person who is needed."

An interesting point, she said, is that studies are showing that women who are moving out into the world and making a commitment to it are not aging conventionally —almost physically they show more vitality, she said.

"THEY ARE MOVING into their full lifespan — 70 years. Once a woman's only big point in life was her marriage and bearing of children and at 40 was thought old—today she still has about 30 years of active life at that point."

But, Mrs. Friedan says, women haven't achieved full realization of their potential active lifespan. "That's why there's a crisis in identity in this country now. The women who have found identity are not concerned with themselves but with the world," she said.

She cited figures showing 40 per cent of women working outside the home now, though most have fairly unskilled just-extra-paycheck jobs.

"WOMEN ARE on the verge of completing the revolution and contributing their full capacities. The main thing holding them back from top-decision-making levels is that they have not made the necessary commitments."

She said that this must be done in early educational years — take the math course instead of an easier one, study that extra evening and forgo a movie — or, lacking that women now can arrange home duties so they can return to the classroom for further education or professional training.

She urges all women to push for opportunities for those who are rearing small children to be able to attend part-time schooling or to use the work training they had already gained before marriage.

"WE NEED A breakthrough in educational training so that women can move on into professional training — possibly attending classes on a part-time basis.

"We must batter down the doors of educational institutions and schools to set up part-time programs for women with families who cannot attend full-time."

TODAY, SHE pointed out, despite the great need for teachers, women cannot complete the necessary courses on a part-time basis; social workers too require special training that is not available part-time despite great needs in that field.

"Because nurses are so needed, hospitals are just beginning to set up nursery schools for young children so that their mothers can train or work in the hospital as nurses.

"WE NEED TO stop soul-searching now and get the necessary break-throughs. You have to be very conscious of what you are doing and not get discouraged . . . there is resistance . . ."

The Resistance: Executive Barriers

(UPI)—The cult of male superiority is keeping numbers of able women from getting executive jobs, charges the woman who heads Long Island University's business finance department.

Dr. Edith Sands says the refusal on the part of men to accept the fact that women can make capable executives is based on masculine insecurity, and the men bolster their egos by pretending a superiority that does not exist.

"YET THE MAN who is secure in his own mind, has belief in himself, doesn't need to worry about job competition from women."

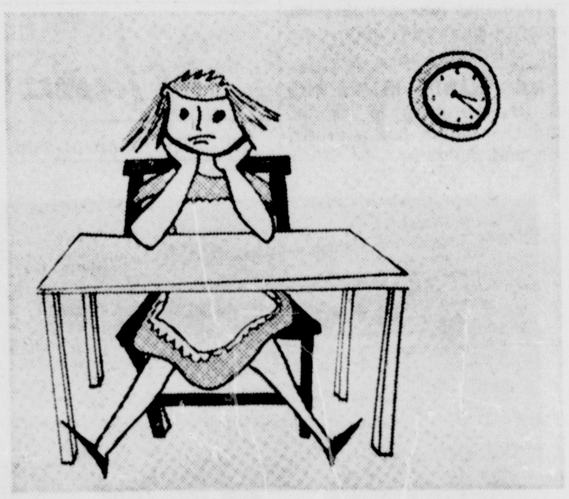

Dr. Sands looked into the subject of women in top jobs in her research for a general text for business, "How to Select Executive Personnel." She talked in person and sent questionnaires to 82 giants of American industry—companies having sales or assets of close to $1 billion or more. Represented fields were manufacturing, banking, life insurance, merchandising and public utilities.

FOR MANY OF these companies, the professor found that the first step in choosing executives is to reject all female candidates. As a result, she said, only four per cent of the nation's executives are women, even though women make up one third of the nation's labor force.

Mrs. Sands said she didn't hear in face to face interviews the admission that women were being by-passed in hiring. "Nobody said it to me because I'm a woman," she said.

But the discrimination came through clearly in the answers to questionnaires, she said. Just one company of the 82 said the barriers to females gradually were being broken down in management levels. Even in industries with a high percentage of female employees, such as banks and mer-

THE EMPLOYMENT OUTLOOK—

Women Need Commitment To Career

Too many women are working in disadvantageous positions. They just go out and take the first job that comes along, often because there's a sudden need after an illness or death in the family and, unprepared, they must earn bread. . .

So says Madeline Codding, who as former regional director, Women's Bureau of the U. S. Dept. of Labor, knows the job situation in the Bay Area.

Women looking for jobs in industry should have waves and waves of information and here is where competent counselors are needed to help, she says.

"PROFESSIONAL opportunities for women have never looked so rosy, but that is comparative, as they were not very good before. But they are improving considerably."

She stresses the idea that women must make a commitment to a career. The more they compete in the labor force with other workers, the more they have to be secure in what they are doing and confident in their ability to do it.

As the sole female in the office of men Mrs. Codding agrees it could be lonely.

"YOU HAVE to be able to take it, get used to being the butt of jokes and the baby of the family."

She recommended use of the "buddy system" toward maintaining security and comfort in the job. Someone in a similar position who has an affirmative view can help any other way than as a secretary moving up, she said.

"EVERY BIG business has good positions which it is possible to move into, and women at that level have worked their way from 10 to 15 years into those interesting jobs. You can't just come in and grab one," she says.

Mrs. Codding said that some progress is being made where government has been putting pressure on businesses to follow up policies on hiring more women. And more housewives who were already trained in professional jobs are being used in part-time capacities, though often only because they are in shortage professions.

She said that today there is a tremendous money problem to finance the studies needed on employment in each state.

GENERALLY she urged women seeking rewarding employment to pay close attention to the world of work early, check job availabilities, assess their education, interests, preferred general location and wages.

"THERE ARE problems, but realize you only need one job."

Continuing Education Urged To Meet Fast-Changing World

Women have taken less advantage of their opportunity for education — women are convinced that college is not as important for them as for men.

"We must overcome the destructive effects of the Feminine Mystique that now restrict a woman's roles in society and develop a positive program to encourage women to continue their education," says Dr. Jack London, associate professor of adult education at the University of California.

HE CONCEDES that barriers exist: the educational myth has been that ability to learn decreases with age, he says.

"BUT ACTUALLY, the greatest barrier is disuse of mental faculties."

He says that women's academic ability is not in question — studies show girls exceed boys consistently through the sophomore year of college. Then the Feminine Mystique begins to work, he says, and as juniors and seniors men and women show only equal ability. And whereas their mothers saw entering the labor force upon graduation as of greatest importance, today's coeds see marriage.

Then they tend to believe that the husband's education has priority over the wife's. Their parents, too, are convinced that education is less important for girls, Dr. London says.

"IT IS CONNECTED with their earning power and career — the parents believe that the cost of keeping a girl in school is greater because she will have less earning power than a man."

"In former years college girls went to work immediately after graduation, and the value of their education was more apparent than now when they marry right away.

"The pioneering spirit in education for women is lacking, and girls today feel that intellectual accomplishment frightens men away."

HE SAID THAT 37 per cent of college students today are women. Forty-four years ago 47 per cent were women and in 1950 only 30 per cent were women. The figure is slowly rising again, but many women drop out before graduation in favor of early marriage.

"But it's not enough to convince women not to marry early — chances are the trend will continue — instead we have to re-examine possible ways for continuing education. Possibilities of entering the world of work must be made available to them."

THE ANSWER LIES in a more flexible educational system to give women a chance to continue their education, Dr. London says, citing possibilities of correspondence courses and television seminars for those whose children are young, and scholarships for part-time attendance of college or school.

"The philosophy of educating only the young is a philosophy of obsolescence. The space of cultural change today is telescoped into less than a lifetime, and no one can ever complete his or her education — we need continual learning opportunities for both women and men."

EDUCATORS MUST encourage women to continue their education, and the teaching must inspire confidence and rid the student of fears while retaining her self-esteem, Dr. London believes.

"This is true for all adult education, which is becoming an inseparable aspect of our citizenship."

Is Housewife's Retraining Necessary And Worthwhile?

Is it worth a housewife's re-training to come back to the work force at this point? Where do the 40 per cent of women now employed work? What opportunities are there for women who wish to enter or re-enter the world of work?

"THE LENGTH of a woman's work life is long. She can have a very productive work life if she has had a good education and some job training," says Dr. Margaret Thal-Larson, regional economist, Bureau of Employment Security, U. S. Dept. of Labor.

Today the job-holding woman who stays single has a working life like a man's—averaging 40 years; a woman who married and has no children will work about 31 years, tending to retire a little earlier; a woman divorced or widowed has a work expectancy similar to a single woman's, Dr. Thal-Larson says.

If a woman marries and has children, her work pattern is interrupted: she works about four years, is away eight to 10 years and returns for 23 years more. The largest work group shows 50 per cent of women work between the ages of 45 and 54, she said. And over age 65 there are still 10 per cent on the job.

WHERE ARE THEY working? Mostly in non-professional jobs, which economists say are the kind being replaced by machines. The top four occupations of women now are saleswomen, elementary teacher, secretary and private household worker.

(The need for secretaries will continue great as machines cannot replace them, the labor economist said.)

BUT ONLY TWO of the top 20 occupations of women now are professions — elementary teacher and nurse—and yet the coming needs will be in the professions and highly skilled technical fields.

The profession of secondary teacher rangs 21st and then smaller numbers of women are scattered widely through the professions — medicine and science, accountant, law, architecture . . . and larger gains are being made now in the number of women architects, engineers and statisticians.

THE FUTURE OUTLOOK:

"We're living in a new age, a different world than we were born into," says the economist. "There is a need for many more workers in services than production of goods — a need for more white collar workers than blue.

"WE NEED A labor force to match the technological apparatus of this country. As a nation, expect the total labor force to rise 20 per cent in the next 10 years and professional people to increase 50 per cent. And you can almost double those figures for California because of increasing job demands here."

Dr. Thal-Larson points out that modern technology is responsible for bringing women into the labor force, for machinery now enables her to get out of the home and it was responsible for getting her into the city, where jobs are open to her, adding that rural life offers little opportunity for feminine careers. And medical advances allow her to live longer and in better health than women have ever known.

IS IT ALWAYS necessary for a housewife returning to the labor force to go back to school for retraining?

"That depends on which which occupations you mean," answers the economist. "But the psychology of job-hunting is tremendously improved if you have confidence gained from having taken further training. Night school, a short course, anything — to show your commitment helps you psychologically have an easier time of selling yourself to a prospective employer."

SOME OF THE coming fields of opportunity she cites are management and labor relations, quality control manager; the shortage fields such as for chemists, mathematicians, statisticians; and programmer, a new field; public accountant, actuary, scientist

Astronomy, mechanical engineer, landscape architect, draftsman, city planner, the arts, interior designer, reporter; and more traditional fields: teacher, librarian, nurse, medical technician, pharmacist — only to begin the possibilities, she says.

(Specific job information is available on these careers in pamphlets at the California State Department of Employment offices in San Rafael or San Francisco.)

ABOVE ALL be a realist, she urges, when considering a job field. It may be a matter of geography — find out how many jobs may be available in your area in a certain field. Be honest with yourself from the first, she warns.

"Before deciding to go into a profession, know the difference between a profession and a highly skilled job," she says.

"Hallmarks of a profession are demands of preparation, dedication, discipline and more interest — you are more involved than in just receiving a paycheck and self-identity. There are formal standards that must be met because the professional person is not a lay person. He claims the right to practice a certain thing."

THERE IS A life-long commitment to the profession and an esprit de corps among its members; a profession is not lightly entered nor lightly left, the economist said.

"WOMEN ARE not participating in one of the most important areas of the labor force today — the new professions created by scientific and social advances which are now largely filled by men who are undergoing special new training for them," says Dr. Thal-Larson.

THERE IS A need for professional people and also people to fill technician jobs, which are also on the increase, she says.

As for the so-called "glamor" fields of publishing, radio and television, public relations and advertising, "they have aspirants by the hundreds" especially in the Bay Area, she said, adding that an applicant must already have the techniques for these fields.

As to age — "If a person is really in demand for her knowledge, it poses no problem. Even a consultant job can be possible."

AND YOU CAN create your own job, she says. There is plenty of room for teachers, tutors, etc. "Ask yourself, 'how many jobs are not being done in our society' and then go out and do one. Sometimes you have to start on a volunteer basis (for example opening a child care center) and when the community sees its service it becomes indispensable."

WOMEN WORK AT EVERY JOB!

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Yankee doodle damsels are working at literally every job under the sun — and some even toil under ground (the 1960 census turned up 266 female coal miners).

According to the Census Bureau's detailed list, women are holding down jobs in each of the 479 occupations — including some unlikely ones. Samples: 101 women blacksmiths, 85 locomotive engineers, 301 stevedores and nearly 1000 female lumbermen, raftsmen and woodchoppers!

The Quiet Revolution:

Some Comment, Controversy Quotations And Conclusions

Too many women are engaged in non-work, sub-work or busy redundant housewifery, self-perpetuating puttering and useless telephoning. This should not be the central theme of a women's life. There is room for family and outside work.—Marion K. Sanders at U.C. symposium on Family in a Changing World.

Talk of fulfilling oneself is a dull idea. The whole approach is self-defeating. Instead of looking at it as a quest for happiness women should concern themselves with what they have to contribute . . . the waste is they have talent in the arts, sciences and professions and do not use them—anthropologist Margaret Mead.

It takes courage to move into a complex competitive world—one must test oneself and push further. It's so easy to stand by the kitchen sink and fool oneself dreaming—Betty Friedan.

What would the total effect of women going back have on the economy?—We need women in shortage occupations and we're not ready yet to do any broad talking on this. The great problem now is that the economy is not active, but I don't think we're ready to say we're facing an age when a small percent of labor is all we need and can afford to slough off the contribution of women—labor economist Dr. Margaret Thal-Larson.

Remember, you need only one job—Madeline Codding.

Employers may expect the cream of the educational crop among the feminine sector of the labor force, for the better educated a woman is the more likely she is to seek and hold paid employment—Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson.

The 24 million women working currently are one-third of the U.S. labor force (30 per cent of California workers), and by 1970 it is expected that 30 million women will be working.

Don't make a woman feel guilty about any work she does . . . different women can make different contributions. There is pure art and pure research. . . . We don't all have to fit into the home vs. community service formula. . . . We can be different as girls, why not as wives? Not all of us are needed in community service and it becomes clear that much of that is occupational therapy—Marion K. Sanders.

Mothers of young children—stay home—anything else is out of the question until there is such a thing as a reliable mother substitute—Margaret Mead.

There's a kind of wife who wants to be a doll—she's a woman found repeatedly—excessively made up, impeccably dressed, fortyish but looking or trying to look younger. Usually well educated, with a husband successful in business, she pursues no career, has few genuine interests . . . she is easily upset and doesn't really understand herself—Detroit psychoanalyst Alexander Grinstein.

WOMEN SHOULD make serious commitments to career early, just as men do, say labor economists . . .

Returning To School Requires Careful Organization Of Time

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

There is a high percentage of part-time college students, and many adults are completing high school or going to trade and other specialty schools while holding full time jobs.

The adult who takes on the burden of continued education is a conscientious student. He generally has a job and family, and he has gone back to school because he realizes the value of additional training. The courses involve tuition and other expense. In order to gain the full benefits of the learning he will need to plan carefully and organize his time.

COLLEGES usually estimate that a student should spend two hours of study time for each hour or class time. Depending on the nature of the course, trade and technical programs also require study time.

Before becoming a part time student, you should remember that the courses and study will probably take place after a full day of work. Sufficient time should be planned for meals and rest. It is most difficult to concentrate on learning when you are hungry or tired.

THE REQUIREMENTS of evening courses should be similar to the normal day time courses and teachers should be equally qualified.

A student in a part time program will only get out of a course what he puts into it. In order to benefit most careful planning will be necessary.

Choice and number of courses are important if a student is going to be successful and both should be considered together. Some courses involve only class time with additional laboratory work, while others involved extensive outside study time. The number of courses taken should be based upon these considerations in relation to available time.

Study periods should be scheduled when the student is rested . . . morning hours are ideal. Fatigue naturally occurs after a day of work.

EFFICIENT USE of time is important. Travel time is wasteful — take courses as near to home or work as possible. Try to arrange library time just before or after class to avoid extra travel.

The school where the student intends to take his courses can usually be most helpful in advising him. Each case is different and the program should be designed to meet the individual needs.

A PROSPECTIVE student should discuss plans carefully with the school adviser, who should be familiar with course requirements and major causes of failure.

Additional education is an excellent investment, but it is up to a student to plan wisely in order to reap the dividends.

THE VOLUNTEER—A NEED FOR THE COMPETENTLY TRAINED

"There is a need for dedicated, well-trained volunteers, such as for social workers . . .

"Too many agencies use volunteers in a way that perpetuates the feminine mystique instead of using the years when their children are young as internships for the time when the mothers can become fulltime, effective volunteer workers," says Betty Friedan.

"Volunteers could study what is needed to facilitate women taking employment, organize guidance bureaus and child care centers, or provide volunteer substitute mothers so that a woman with a needed professional training, such as a nurse or doctor, could work part time, says Dr. Margaret Thal-Larson, labor economist.

She said that at a Sacramento hearing on migrant workers, volunteers were the only ones on hand with the facts, having made a thorough study of their community.

Perhaps volunteers could urge colleges to allow part-time professional study programs for wives rearing children and who get the facts on local work opportunity for women, she suggests.

The growing boredom of women with volunteer work, and their preference for paid jobs no matter how low-level, resulted because professionals have taken over most community posts requiring intelligence, says Mrs. Friedan.

"But the fact that women did not become professionals themselves, the reluctance of women to commit themselves to work—paid or unpaid—requiring real initiative, discipline and responsibility is due to the feminine mystique.'

There is a need for a more competently trained volunteer with initiative for leadership, they agree.

THE RESISTANCE:

It Takes Twice As Long To Double Salary

One company flatly stated, "No women, only technical men, engineers, chemists, and so on," implying that women could not fulfill the educational or intellectual requirements for executive personnel.

A STUDY BY the National Manpower Council found that women are just as capable as men of high achievements in the technical and scientific fields, she said.

DISCRIMINATION is practised in other ways too, she found.

It takes a woman twice as long as men to double a starting salary: and only half of one per cent of the employed women make more than $5,000 yearly as compared with 12 per cent of the men.

"I'm not a militant feminist", said Mrs. Sands, "but I do feel storngly about a person being considered for a job on the basis of ability. With the present attitudes, there is a tremendous waste of the nation's manpower."

DR. SANDS TOOK note of the complaint of men that women executives tend to lose their femininity and that men don't want to work for a woman executive because she tends to be bossy. Her answer is that only a truly "womanly" woman can be an effective manager because she has an intuitive sympathy, a persuasive approach, and a great deal of respect for herself and others. It is when she ignores the demands of her nature that her manners become tough and ugly, said the educator.

MRS. SANDS IS the wife of Dr. Abraham M. Sands, and the couple has a grown son and daughter.

Medical Technology Offers Women Good Career Choice

(UPI) — Annie Laurie Peeler takes with good humor remarks about her needling profession.

But she takes seriously the role she and thousands like her perform in the physician's office, the laboratory, the hospital, the clinic, the research center, the classroom.

Miss Peeler is a medical technologist, assistant professor of pathology at Northwestern University, is supervising technologist at Northwestern's Medical School clinical laboratory and teaching supervisor in its school of medical technology.

She also is president of the 10-thousand member American Society of Medical Technologists.

SHE EXPLAINED that the technologist, in layman terms, "are the people who stick you with a needle."

She said the work of the technologist — most of whom are women — is growing like a laboratory culture as medical science advances.

Now, she said, medicine's use of the chemical makeup of the body and its fluids in diagnosis and treatment is of such wide range that a routine check in the lab of blood for instance may involve 10 chemistries. The number is "countless' when you get into the hormone, enzyme and nutrition areas, she said.

TECHNOLOGISTS work with a myriad of equipment. There is, for example, a mechanism that pumps sample fluids through an intricate maze of plastic tubing and records in computer code the enzyme or chemical content of each. And, a pegboard arrangement of tubes and dials, properly loaded and left to itself, ferrets out and identifies the elusive amino acids in body protein samples.

The president of ASMT told of the shortage of technologists in most parts of the country — "I'm sure that if our numbers are doubled there'd still be a demand."

NOW MEN ARE entering the field because salaries have been scaled upward and many of them had a taste of the work in the armed forces. She estimated that of the approximately 32,000 registered technologists, 25 per cent are men.

Technologists work in hospitals, doctors' offices, clinics, research laboratories for industry as well as medicine, for pharmaceutical houses, with companies selling laboratory equipment.

TO BE REGISTERED, a technologist must have three years of college and another year at an AMA-approved school. She differs from the registered nurse in that college is not an RN requirement, although many RNs are college trained. "The nurse mainly is dealing with people," Miss Peeler said. "The technologist deals mainly with scientific aspects of medicine."

BUT IT IS not a profession for the squeamish.

WHEN THE CHILDREN are young, their mother should be at home with them, agree all authorities, but provisions should be made for adequate child care centers or volunteers' child care so that a mother with needed professional skills may work or study on a part-time basis.

MAKING THE CHOICE—

Counseling Service Available

There is a great need for competent and sympathetic counselors to guide women into useful training and good careers, agree labor economists.

Vocational counseling services are available in the Bay Area with and without fees in a variety of places: California State Dept. of Employment (local office 805 E Street San Rafael, or San Francisco office) adult education programs, private and public colleges and universities.

Persons planning to apply for admission to college or university may be eligible for pre-entrance testing and counseling.

The State Dept. of Employment offices provide employment counseling without fee to persons seeking employment. The College of Marin evening division holds a class in Group Counseling once a week covering vocational guidance and psychological testing.

Professional counseling services with fees include University of California Counseling Center, Berkeley (no fee for students); Counseling Psychologists Associated, Palo Alto; and the Counseling and Testing Center at Stanford University — all accredited by the American Board of Counseling Services of American Personnel and Guidance Assn. University of San Francisco also provides public counseling services at a fee.

PROBLEMS, YES—

'But I Don't See Myself As Keeper Of The Hearth Alone'

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some women combine role of homemaker and careerist with complete assurance. Some candidly admit they can't.

Betty Comden says she is among the latter group. Miss Comden is wife, mother, performer and half of a writing team highly successful on Broadway and in Hollywood.

In filling these assorted roles, she voices what many another woman in multiple roles must often feel.

"I'm going off in so many directions I probably do each job less well than I'd like to," said Miss Comden. "I've always admired the women who do so many things with aplomb.

"I'M ALWAYS deeply concerned that I might neglect. But I think we working women learn to live with the problems which are there. They won't disappear."

To those who would say, "Well! Miss Comden. You don't have to work, why don't you quit?" she answers:

"I'VE ALWAYS worked. It is part of what I am. Since my husband is aware of this, I think we both feel we have a better family situation. I don't see me as a keeper of the hearth alone."

In professional life, the writer is the one half of the Betty Comden-Adolph Green team which has done books and lyrics for a string of Broadway hits starting with "On the Town" and more recently "Subways Are for Sleeping." They did the lyrics for "Wonderful Town" for Mary Martin's "Peter Pan" and for "Do Re Mi." Among the movies they've written are "Singing in the Rain", "On the Town", "Auntie Mame" and "Bells Are Ringing."

IN PRIVATE LIFE Betty Comden has been married for 22 years to Sven Kyle, designer of household accessories and head of Americraft. The couple has two children, Susanna, 14, and Alan, 10.

Green is married to actress Phyllis Newman, and they have two children also.

Brooklyn-born Miss Comden's teaming with Green began during the late 1930s, she said, "when we both were out of work."

Does the close professional association create any friction in home life?

"IT WOULD BE impossible to continue the partnership if there were any, she said. "My husband, who loves the theater, often is our sounding board. We'll grab him and read him the lines. He was the one who encouraged us to do 'The Party'."

MEDICAL technology offers good career opportunity for girls in college, as demand is increasing and salaries rising.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"I don't think $1.35 is too much for the five-course dinner when you take into consideration it includes free use of the stomach pump."

Presidential Appointees See Family's Life All-Important

NEW YORK (AP) — One school of thought holds that behind every married woman in public life there stands a neglected husband and wistful children who sometimes get to see mama on her way to meetings.

If you look hard enough you're bound to find an example or two. But they won't be among the women recently appointed to high government office by President Johnson.

TO START WITH, there's Virginia Mae Brown of Pliny, W. Va., named to the Interstate Commerce Commission. At 40, she's the mother of two daughters, ages 4 and 8. She says:

"After business hours my husband, Jim, and I both devote all our time to the children. As far as we're concerned, real life is centered in your children, to inspire them, work with them, see their minds develop. And you stay young doing it, that's for sure."

Mrs. Brown has worked 17 years in state government. A lawyer like her husband, she was an assistant state attorney general for 10 years. She hasn't been able to practice privately since the children came along, but she does serve on the West Virginia Public Service Commission.

"I'VE ALWAYS FELT," she says, "that my working actually broadens my children's perspective on life."

MRS. LEON KEYSERLING, who will become director of the Women's Bureau in the Department of Labor, has no children.

Concerned because women's wages have not risen as rapidly as men's—"they have in only a few areas" — Mrs. Keyserling is particularly worried about the problems of women who are supporting their families.

"IF THEY MUST support their families, they don't have the bargaining power," she points out. "Many states have not updated their legislation. But more than legislation is needed, such as awareness of the problem and education about it. This job will be a wonderful opportunity for me to do something for women."

REPRESENTING STATE'S P-TA

The 14th District P-TA's project (Marin and Sonoma) of producing a monthly film guide to aid parents in selection of suitable movies for their children has been chosen one of two P-TA projects to represent California at the national P-TA convention May 24-27 in Chicago. Here crating up the poster explaining the four year old project are Mrs. Robin Galloway of Kentfield, who was 14th District president for the two years of the projects greatest growth; Mrs. Dennis Trulove, Mill Valley Council motion picture chairman, and Mrs. Willard Vernon, 14th District motion picture chairman. Over 30,000 copies of the film guide are distributed monthly to Marin families.

Marin Women

Peggy Lilienthal Will Be Bride Of David Lindenbaum

PEGGY LILIENTHAL

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore M. Lilienthal of Sleepy Hollow are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Peggy, to David Lindenbaum.

The bride-elect was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of Oregon. She is in her junior year at the University of Southern California. Thomas and Vicky Lilienthal of Sleepy Hollow are her brother and sister and she is the granddaughter of Mrs. Max P. Lilienthal of San Francisco.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lindenbaum of San Rafael, was graduated from Drake High School and will be graduated in June from the University of California at Santa Barbara. Karol and Helen Lindenbaum of San Rafael are his sisters. He is the grandson of Mrs. Fred Crisp of San Anselmo.

The wedding will be a summer event.

Walter F. Freitas Weds Lillian French Sterling

Walter F. Freitas of San Rafael claimed as his bride Mrs. Lillian Bass French Sterling in a Friday afternoon ceremony at Highland Inn Chapel in Carmel, attended by the bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Freitas of San Rafael.

The couple will live in a San Francisco apartment following a three weeks wedding trip to Pebble Beach, Palm Springs, Las Vegas and Squaw Valley.

It was the third marriage for each. The bride has two children by her previous marriage to James E. French Jr. They are James E. French III and Calvin LeRoy French, both of San Rafael.

Mr. Freitas is the father of David Freitas and Mrs. James Tanous of San Rafael and Sister M. Morita of Boston. He is a retired attorney.

Nationwide Reading Scrutiny Will Evaluate Teaching Ideas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — How does a first grader learn to read?

And, in one or two, he is memorizing a strange new alphabet which he'll discard after a while for the conventional one.

Whether his teacher is using the best methods to teach him will be determined next year when the U. S. Office of Education evaluates the results of the first nationwide scrutiny of reading instruction.

State departments of education and about 150 colleges and universities have been invited to take part in the one-year study.

Dr. Doris Gunderson, research coordinator for the study, said this first large-scale attack on the problems of teaching children to read will enable the Office of Education to "generalize far better" than it has in the past on the most successful teaching methods.

Is this your child's favorite sport?

Like many youngsters, your child probably spends long hours watching his favorite sports—and precious little time participating in them. If inactivity is the order of the day for your child, he may—like one-third of our school children—be unable to pass minimum physical fitness tests. Many schools are stepping up their programs of physical education. But in a surprisingly large number of them, there is still not enough emphasis on daily, vigorous activity. For the sake of your child's physical and mental progress, make sure that your school puts sufficient emphasis on physical education. To help you evaluate the program in your school, send for the free leaflet offered by the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

FORECLOSURE SALE DELUXE
The lender owns it and says "SELL"—An unusual situation when a large deluxe home in a prime area is involved. By large we mean 1750 sq. ft. of 3 bedrm. plus large family rm. home with 2 baths of course. Let's face one fact, it needs landscaping badly. BUT what a dream home possibility. In it's VIEW location with vaulted beam ceiling, electric kitchen and many other modern features, it's really a VALUE, and the lender says, "let's make it sell and QUICK by asking only $29,950."

BUYING A HOME?

Have you checked on taxes and assessments you'd have to pay on the homes you've looked at? These costs vary, you know, according to the property itself and the neighborhood in which it's located. And it's important to know about such costs when it comes to figuring the annual expenses of a certain piece of property, but you may have forgotten to ask about them. There are so many details to think about when buying a home and that's where your REALTOR is such a big help. He knows the things you should check on to make sure you get exactly what you want in a home, and at a price you can afford.

Mill Valley

NO KIDDING
We like children too, but this may not be the home for lots of kiddies. This custom cutie may not be the biggest but it may well be the BEST you can find. The rustic design belies the fact that it is only a few years old. A most fully equipped kitchen, shoji screens and a dramatic brick fireplace are only a few of its contemporary features. Let's not forget the far-reaching view from the sundeck, somewhat shaded by a mature oak tree. Low maintenance is another keynote, and if you really want more space in the future, the 1 bedroom is expandable to 3. You'll agree that VALUE is here at only—

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Notice is hereby given that the City of San Anselmo, California will receive bids for furnishing all labor, material, transportation, equipment and services for the reconstruction of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Greenfield Avenue to Tunstead Avenue, located in San Anselmo, California; each bid to be in accordance with plans, specifications, and other contract documents now on file in the City Clerk's Office at the City Hall, San Anselmo, California, where they may be examined and copies obtained upon deposit of ten dollars ($10.00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within seven (7) days after the bids are opened.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law thereto applicable, the City Council of the City of San Anselmo, California, has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal, holiday, and overtime work in the locality in which the work is to be performed for each craft or type of workmen or mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder. The prevailing rates so determined are as set forth in the aforementioned contract documents, Schedule A.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any sub-contractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Many Springtime Events In Empire

Aries the Ram, zodiac sign governing April, will gambol like a lamb amid manifold springtime events upcoming in the Redwood Empire.

Rams don't care for apple pie, but two-legged visitors to Sebastopol next weekend may eat their fill during the Apple Industrial Show, then take a 44-mile blossom motor tour.

That same weekend, aquatic fans will congregate at Lake Berryessa for the Steele Park speedboat marathon, a 300-mile, $5,000 event.

Gourmets will enjoy the Trinidad Crab Feed, "all the crab you can eat for $1," in that Humboldt County fishing port April 19.

Giant followers will converge on Candlestick Park April 14-20, when their pennant-bound pets open the 1964 major league baseball season.

Up-country again, April 11 sees the Upper Lake Firemen's Festival, near Clear Lake; and the third annual Lake County Boat and Sports Show takes over the Lakeport Fairgrounds nearby, April 17-19.

There are seaside chamber music concerts at Timber Cove, above Fort Ross, April 5 and 26.

The 14th annual Marin County Antique Show (and sale) is April 23-26 at 511 Caledonia Street, Sausalito; and Redwood Empire April fun winds up with the American Legion Boat Races at Smith River (Del Norte County) on April 26.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Side Effects Of Salk Research Turns Out As Benefit To Dwarfs

VAN DELLEN

Dysfunction of the pituitary gland leads to a certain type of dwarfism. Many of these little people benefited from the side effects of the research on the Salk polio vaccine. In 1950, 21,000 monkeys were used in this project. This provided a unique opportunity for scientists to obtain a large number of pituitary glands from which certain hormones could be extracted for work on human growth.

The timing was perfect. It has been known for more than five decades that a relationship exists between a type of small, perfectly formed child and a poorly functioning pituitary. The problem appeared to be solved in 1945 when a hormone was extracted from the glands of small laboratory animals. But nothing happened when the substance was injected into dwarfs. Animals grew but humans did not.

THE NEXT STEP was to repeat the experiments, using higher animals such as monkeys. This has a drawback in that the gland is tiny and contains only an infinitesimal amount of growth hormone. It was here that timing entered the picture when the 21,000 monkey pituitaries became available. The hormones were effective in humans but the research project ended when the supply was exhausted.

In 1956, a growth hormone was extracted from human pituitary glands which proved to be the exact substance lacking in this form of dwarfism. But, again, the demand is greater than the supply. The growing child requires the hormone from one pituitary gland per day and the need is even greater for dwarfs of another type.

THE NATIONAL pituitary agency was formed to help overcome this deficiency. It hopes to encourage thousands of persons to will their pituitary glands to science for research purposes.

The pituitary dwarf is of normal size at birth but development usually ceases between the first and third years. The diagnosis is made by checking height and bone development via X-rays. Treatment should be started before the bones lose their ability to grow.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ASCORBIC AND CITRIC ACIDS

J. G. writes: What is the difference between ascorbic acid and citric acid, and what is their relationship to vitamin C?

REPLY

Ascorbic acid is the chemical name of vitamin C. They are one and the same and citrus fruits are rich in vitamin C. Citric acid is another chemical constituent of citrus fruits that is unrelated to this vitamin.

NARROWED ARTERIES

G. H. C. writes: I know that cholesterol clogs the arteries but would like to know if calcium does also.

REPLY

Both may play a role in narrowing the arteries. The hardening process begins when cholesterol is deposited in the arterial walls. These deposits are replaced with calcium.

Independent-Journal
San Rafael, California
January, 1964

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved.

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group and their address.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As examples Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

Stamps Will Aid Exchange Program

Commercial savings stamps will be collected by the Sir Francis Drake Student Committee of the American Field Service Foreign Exchange Program during April to help pay for transportation between San Francisco and New York for the school's AFS representatives.

Leisa Rossman, committee president, said, the program is sponsored by the community, not just the local high school.

Marinite Enters A.F. Pilot Training

Second Lt. Dennis A. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Johnson of 137 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley, has entered Air Force pilot training at William Air Force Base, Arizona.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Johnson received his commission last year upon completion of the Reserve Officer Training Corps program at the University of California.

Federal Employment Of Civilians Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of civilian workers on the federal payroll in February totaled 2,470,393, a decrease of 3,153 from the previous month, a congressional committee reported today.

Federal employment in civilian agencies during February was 1,430,227, down 1,421 from January; civilian employment in military agencies was 1,040,166, a decrease of $1,732 for the same period.

'AMBASSADORS'

Mrs. Deedy To Direct Europe Trip

Mrs. Daniel F. Deedy of Ross has been appointed director of Marin's Citizen Ambassador Delegation to Europe, which will leave the county July 29 and return Aug. 24, Joel Kimball, director of the International Travel Program of People to People, Inc., announced today.

The program is co-sponsored by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The tour program for the first time will offer the women of Marin the opportunity to travel abroad as "citizen ambassadors" to promote international understanding, said Mrs. Deedy.

The delegates first will visit Washington, D.C., where they will be briefed by the U.S. Information Agency and embassy officials of the countries they will visit. Then they will go to New York for a visit to the World's Fair.

From there they'll go to Moscow, Leningrad, Prague, Munich, Berlin, Paris and London.

The tour will not be just another vacation trip, said Mrs. Deedy, adding:

"We hope to attract internationally minded individuals who will take an active part in lessening the tensions of the world by increasing world understanding. We will travel abroad with the intention of meeting people such as ourselves and, in a sense, making international friends."

Doctors' Bag, Briefcase Are Stolen

Theft of a bag and briefcase from two Terra Linda physicians' autos, as well as the discovery of another doctor's bag which had been thrown in Corte Madera Creek, were reported to the Marin County sheriff's office Saturday.

Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin of 777 Montecillo Drive reported at 8:18 p.m. that a bag valued at $280, including its contents, had been taken from his car, parked at Marin General Hospital.

Later, Dr. Earl Siegel of 636 Las Colindas Road said a briefcase, not containing any narcotics or other medications, was taken from his auto after he had left it parked in his garage at 8:30 p.m.

Early Saturday, a doctor's bag containing medications and instruments was found in Corte Madera Creek by Raymond C. Price of 48 Lucky Drive, Corte Madera.

Sheriff's deputies said the bag had the name "David Costanza" etched on a metal latch.

Tam Students To Be Featured Violinists

Tamalpais High School students Guy Howard of Woodacre and Alan Shearer of Mill Valley will be featured violinists with the high school orchestra at the school's "Honor T" program at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Howard, a senior, and Shearer, a sophomore, will perform J. S. Bach's double concerto for two violins and chamber orchestra.

LOOK AT HOLLAND SCHDULED FOR SHOWING

Photographer Dwight Nichols will be narrator for showing of his film, "Holland, Close Up" at 8 p.m. next Thursday in Olney Hall of College of Marin, Kentfield. The film is to be presented by the Explorers Club of San Francisco and the Associated Students of College of Marin. Nichols is shown above "on location" in a Dutch field, making the film which emphasizes how the Netherlands have restored the damage of World War II.

First Redwood Student On Year Abroad Studies Zulu In Africa

By LYNN DIAMOND

Redwood High School Student

Three months ago Sue Christy was a junior at Redwood High School. Today she is taking Zulu—she describes it as a "beautiful sing song language"—at a private girls' schools in South Africa.

Three months ago she was living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Christy, in Greenbrae. Today her home, "large even without the servants' quarters, but . . . average for the area" is with Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Gettliffe in a Johannesburg suburb.

Today she can write home, "As you get further into the veld (pronounced 'felt') you pass small huddles of perhaps, three or five mud houses, often very colorfully decorated. They are very close with thatched roofs and dung floors (which looks and feels exactly like concrete.) . . . You might think that Africa is rather ugly, but actually it is oneo f the most beautiful places I have ever seen; at least the veld is. . . .

"One passes . . . sometimes sunflowers, a winter feed for cows (their horns are left growing, by the way) and 'pumpkin' patches. They look like squash to me, white and flat, but like true pumpkin on the inside—we have it a lot."

Miss Christy is living with her "adopted" family and four "sisters" in Johannesburg, as an American Field Service exchange student. She is the first Redwood student selected to spend a full year in another country.

"Nearly all discussions in this country," she writes, "eventually land on politics, and if a man is English he is anti-government, and everyone ends up criticizing the Dutch."

She adds that there is little racial tension, and that although the Africans have all the menial jobs, the real conflict is between the English and the Dutch.

"The 'locations' are in the southwest of Johannesburg. In a space of about 27 square miles, there are some 420,000 natives. Although the fact that they can't buy the houses goes against fairness, I must admit that these locations are at least 20 per cent better than the slums one sees in our country," she wrote.

"I was informed that the original reason they were built was to, first of all, support apartheid, but also to keep down the rents that the natives would charge each other . . .

"School means a lot more here," Miss Christy observed, "and it is the high schools rather than the universities that have the clubs and traditions. For instance, a woman was married in the school chapel the other day, and that isn't 'uncommon'."

She adds, "We have to stand up all the time, and address all teachers as madam. There are also periods of silence — and only upper classmen can use the front door."

Other comments: "I nearly died playing cricket, which is the most boring game imaginable. If you slow baseball down by 100 per cent, you begin to get the idea . . .

"Nearly everyone has tennis courts since it is all the rage, and everyone is brought up to be real 'keen' on it."

Novato Woman, Girl, 16, Hurt In Car Crash

Mrs. Barbara May Sparrow, 38, and her 16-year-old daughter, Linda, both of 1387 Cambridge Street, Novato, suffered minor injuries in a two-car crash on an on-ramp leading to Highway 101 near Terra Linda at 12:55 p.m. Saturday.

Driver of the other car, Michael Scott Ellsworth, 17, of 478 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, was cited by the California Highway Patrol for failing to carry a valid driver's license.

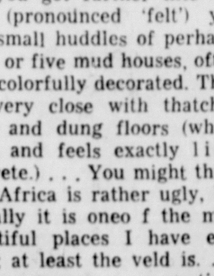

Ellsworth told the patrol he had stopped when Mrs. Sparrow did, then started up again. He said he was looking to his left and failed to see when she stopped a second time. His car hit the rear of the Sparrow auto.

Benefit Hootenanny Is Slated Saturday

Performers from throughout the Bay Area will participate in a hootenanny for the benefit of the foreign student exchange program at Redwood High School at 8 p.m. Saturday at the high school gymnasium.

Appearing will be Rick Kronk of the University of California at Berkeley, Lynn Paplow and Steve Hughett, a singing duo, comic Bill Yates of San Francisco, Gregg Norgaard of San Anselmo, winner of the 1963 Grape Festival talent show, singer Ann Hughes, Pete Esherik, drummer Gordie McDermott of Larkspur, and a barber shop quartet from Redwood High's production of the "Music Man."

Kentfield Officer To End 24-Year Military Career

Colonel Brann joined the California National Guard in 1940 in San Francisco. During World War II he was stationed at Prince Rupert, B.C., with an army port of embarkation unit.

He was a member of the Army General Staff in the Pentagon from 1949 to 1952 and then was appointed to the U.S. Embassy in London as an army attache.

His final overseas tour of duty took him to Eniwetok Atoll in the South Pacific where he was transportation officer for the combined military forces.

Colonel Brann's most recent assignment was as inspector general of the Pacific Terminal Command at Fort Mason and Oakland Army Terminal.

Film Scheduled

A film entitled "Problem Solving," one of the John Tracy Clinic Film Series, will be shown at a meeting of the Marin Parents of Hearing Handicapped Children at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Marindale School, Terra Linda. Dr. Gerald Jampolsky will lead the discussion.

Youth Hurt In Crash

Thomas Curr, 21, of 376 Sunset Way, Mill Valley, suffered a cut forehead and bruises when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his 1962 model car and crashed into two trees on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Camino Bueno in Ross at 2 a.m. Saturday, according to Ross police.

Does BLADDER IRRITATION MAKE YOU NERVOUS?

After 21, common Kidney or Bladder Irritations affect twice as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Secondarily, you may lose sleep and suffer from Headaches. Backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, CYSTEX usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritating germs in strong, acid urine and by analgesic pain relief. Get CYSTEX at druggists. Feel better fast.
